"PUT AMERICA AT DISPOSAL OF MANKIND" SAYS WILSON IN SPEECH ENROUTE HOME

IDEALISM AND SERVICE IS LEAGUE AMENDMENT

INTIMATES THAT HE WILL EXPECT PEOPLE AT HOME TO RATIFY HIS PEACE TABLE ASSURANCE

READY TO STUMP THAT COUNTRY

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, July 5—Secretary Tumulty announced definately this afternoon that President Wilson would make an address to the Senate on Thursday afternoon.

"We must continue to put America at the disposal of mankind." This was the theme of the address made on board ship by Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, enroute to Washington from where he will carry on a vigorous speaking campaign in a herculean effort to win approval of the peace treaty entire including the League of Nations. His address was, in effect, a reply to that large element in the United States who are now in favor of withdrawing from Euroean politics and adopting a policy of "isolated Americanism."

The President made it plain that the Allied governments expected that America would continue in the realm of international politics and implied that America had committed herself to this course in the long days of labor over the peace table. He also intimated that he was prepared to extend his speaking tour over any period he might deem necessary to bring about a conversion to his ideas of America's place in the sun as a share holder in the political destinies and responsibilities of the human race under the whole canopy of heaven.

The address is significant in that it is believed to forecast the keynote of the intensive campaign for the principle of the League of Nations. The President is plainly not for the literal application of the principle of "America First" except in so far as America being for idealism. It also is significant in its implication that our Allies look to the United States to continue in the role of spiritual and moral guide, financial protector and general savior of European morale.

DIRIGIBLE R 34 SHORT OF PETROL BUT WILL REACH MINEOLA SUNDAY

BULLETIN

MINEOLA, July 5—The Commander of the Mineola Aviation Field has just received a wireless from the R-34 saying she would land here tomorrow.

OLD PENNSYLVANIA QUIET YESTERDAY

HARRISURG, PA., July 5—State police headquarters here today announced that not the slightest disorder was reported from any section of the state Lumb. acing head of the department attributes the orderly state of affairs to the eternal vigilance of all police officers throughout the state and to the effect of publicity, the ed element being constantly advised through the newspapers that the officers were watching closely for any signs of organized or unorganized demonstrations or bomb plots

BIRDMAN CARRYING PICTURES OF FIGHT HAD TO LAND HERE

The crowd at the park last evening were treated to a few 'aeroplane thrills" not on the regular program. About 8 o'clock a plane suddenly appeared in the sky right over the fair grounds heading from west to east and with a few preliminary whirls which denoted something out of whack with the flyer began to rapidly swoop down toward the landing field inside the ring. The airman misjudged his field a little and arrived almost at the upper end of the park before he got near enough to land. Being prevented from steering to the left on account of the fireworks display already in place and fearing to foul the wires at the west end of the park, the pilot dropped down onto the track and hopping up high enough to clear the wires came down "on his nose" just outside the fence in the field back of the silk mill.

A huge crowd immediately surrounded the fallen birdman and found him out taking stock of his machine, landing wheels of which were badly damaged.

The pilot proved to be Lieutenant Murray, who in a speedy little Sopwith Camel machine had essayed the flight from the ringside at Toledo, Ohio, with pictures of the Willard-Dempsey champion prizefight for William R. Heart's New York American.

Several of the New York newspapers, with their usual enterprise, had arranged to get their pictures of the big scrap by airplane in an effort to get the news ahead of their rivals, it being expected that the flyers would beat all train service by six or eight hours

Lieutenant Murray was quite severely shaken by his bounce over the wires and fence but after arranging for watchmen to gaurd the machine secured his pictures of the fight and hopping into an automobile with Earl McHenry and Cliff Cowdrick was whisked over to the Orcutt & Buchanan garage where he got a fast machine and driver and was rushed overland to Tyrone and continued his trip to New York by rail.

He was forced to land on account of engine trouble and will send two mechanics to Clearfield to get the machine in shape to fly back home to New York.

He said two other birdmen who attempted the record flight from Toledo had tumbled down in his sight and he felt sure one of them at least had been killed. There were four machines in the original start

"VERY INTERESTING" SAYS BEN CHASE OF ATTEMPT ON LIFE

Benjamin F Chase, Esq., of Clearfield who is U. S. Consul at San Jose, Costa Rica, appears to be having a real old-fashioned "hot time in the old town" down among the "spiggotys". The Costa Ricans have been revolting for a long time and as the United States Government refuses to recognize President Tinoco, Mr Chase's lot is rather a hard one

Some time ago the consulate was bombed and on June 20th last, a government policeman tried to assassinate the plucky Clearfield citizen. The New York World of July 2d speaks of the incident as follows —

F S Sisterman merchant of 60 Broadway, who arrived yesterday by the United Fruit steamship Tivives from Port Limon said the Tinoco Government of Costa Rica was on its last legs and that Tinoco, whom the United States had never recognized, could not hold his job much longer

An attempt on the life of Benjamin F Chase, American Consul at San Jose had been made on Friday, June 20, by a Government policeman Mr Chase told Mr Sisterman that the Costa Rican cop stood across from Mr Chase's porch and fired three times at him One bullet passed through his clothing, another went wild and the third struck near the door Mr Chase remained serenely to the merchant. 'Things are getting very interesting here."

HIGHWAY DEPT. SETS NEW WORLD CONTRACT RECORD

HARRISBURG, July 3—A new world's record will be set by the Pennsylvania State Highway Department Tuesday July 8 when bids will be opened for the construction of approximately 107 miles of modern-type pavement the cost of which will range from $4,000,000 to $4,500,000.

An instance is on record where bids were asked for the grading and drainage of a greater mileage, but no Commonwealth has ever asked at one time for bids for the construction of so great a mileage as that represented in the "letting" of July 8.

The exact amount of construction for which the department will ask for bids July 8, is 106.96 miles. Before the close of July over 500 miles of Highway will be in the course of building in various parts of the Commonwealth.

This tremendous construction program has resulted in the institution of a very large number of detours, inasmuch as a road cannot be used while it is being rebuilt. The Highway department's bureau of information has inaugurated a weekly bulletin service concerning these detours, explaining in detail where they are.

The longest strip of Highway for which construction is planned and for which bids will be opened July 8. is that section of the Lackawanna Trail which lies in Clark's Summit, Glenburn, Dalton and LaPlume boroughs and Abington Clinton and Nicholson tonswhips, in Wyoming and Lackawanna counties The total length of this construction is 71,063 feet. This is approximately 13 1-2 miles and is a record breaker for Pennsylvania, insofar as continuous construction is concerned. The Lackawanna Trail is an important northeastern Pennsylvania thoroughfare leading from Scranton to Binghamton, New York.

Another important piece of construction is that in Derry township Westmoreland county on the William Penn highway, where 32,047 feet of reinforced concrete and hilside brick are planned to connect Blairsville and New Alexandria.

There are twenty-two projects in the letting of July 8 In Bradford county almost nine miles of road are planned from Towanda north toward Waverly. In Bucks county a concrete road is to be put down north and south of Plumsteadville on the Easton-Dowlestown-Philadelphia road. A very important thoroughfare is that between Slippery Rock and Butler on road north from Pittsburgh where the program calls for about eight miles of concrete. There are two projects in Clearfield county—one connecting Clearfield and Curwensville and the other extending from DuBois toward Reynoldsville Construction is planned from Osceola, Clearfield county, south over two miles into Centre county. In Delaware county over four miles of road are to be built north from Chester. In Fayette county about six miles of concrete are planned from a point north of Smithfield to the West Virginia line on the main road south from Uniontown. Another six mile trip is that from Slatington south toward Allentown in Lehigh county A second Lehigh county job is that calling for three miles of concrete from Allentown south toward Emaus Four miles of concrete are planned for Luzerne county in the vicinity of Harvey's Lake There are three Somerset county projects. One is from Salisbury to the Maryland line another means seven miles of concrete between Berlin and Garrett; the third calls for six miles of concrete from Pennertown north toward Johnstown In York county it is proposed to construct six miles of concrete from York to a point south of Dallastown on the road to Baltimore.

THE LAST BARK JOB

H L Shaffer, one of the last "woodchucks" to operate in this region, came down from McKean county to spend the Fourth at his home here Shaffer is peeling bark for Fridley Bros on what he says is the last bark job in that county He has a menagerie consisting of five coal black woodchucks which he proposes bringing down for exhibition at the fair.

VETERANS OF OLD FIFTH RE-UNED HERE YESTERDAY

The 12th annual reunion of the Fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, Spanish-American War Veterans, was held at the Park yesterday afternoon. About one hundred members of the Reunion Association participated.

President M. E Troxell called the assemblage to order and after extending a hearty welcome to the visitors introduced Walter Welch Esq., as Chairman of the meeting.

Matters of interest to the veterans were discussed and disposed of and Indiana chosen as the place for next year's reunion.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolutions on the death of Lt. Wm. P. Kelley late of Co. E., James P. Jack. late of Co. F, and Albert J. Bowman, late of Co. A, Fifth Regt. Inf., Pa. Vols., Spanish-American war.

Your committee appointed to present suitable resolution on the death of the borthers above named, respectfully report:

Whereas during the past year Lt. W. P. Kelley, late of Co. E, Private James P. Jack, late of Co. F, and Private Albert J. Bowman of Co. A, have answered the last roll call, and due announcement thereof has been made to this Reunion, therefore, resolved

That in the death of Lieut. Kelley and Privates Jack and Bowman, this association has lost active and loyal members of our organization; that in their loss we recognize that our nation has lost patriotic citizens who in the hour of their country's need answered its call, enrolled in the ranks of their country's soldiers, and faithfully upheld the honor of our country and the best traditions of its volunteer soldiers.

Resolved, that we deeply deplore our loss in the death of these, our comrades and brothers.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this organization and a copy presented to the relatives of our deceased brothers.

Respectfully submitted,
J. P. KENNEDY.
JOHN E. IRVIN.
A. H. WOODWARD.

The attendance was not quite as large as is usually the case on account of so many of the towns in the district having holiday celebrations

Major John C Dunkle, of Huntingdon, who has the unique distinction of having served in the Civil War, the Spanish-American and the world war, was among the distinguished members participating in the reunion.

The following officers for next year were chosen:—

President.—Chas W Fee, of Indiana.

First Vice President.—John W. Feight, of Indiana.

Second Vice President—Maj. Chas. W. McClain, of Indiana

Secretary—Major John C. Dunkle, of Huntingdon.

Treasurer—L D. McCullough, of Saltsburg.

Chaplain.—C W Bathurst, of Huntingdon.

BOYS' BRIGADE BAND HERE

Prof Lowe and his Boys' Brigade Band of DuBois stopped in Clearfield long enough Thursday afternoon to give a delightful concert in front of The Domeling hotel.

The band was making an overland trip to Washington, D C., traveling in about one dozen automobiles. They continued their journey as far as Altoona where they appeared in the parade yesterday.

They leave Altoona today and go to Bedford, Cumberland, Gettysburg, Harrisburg and to Washington and expect to be gone ten days

They are first class musicians and a jolly bunch Several DuBois people including Dr Pollum, as Medical Director, accompanied the party.

SERVICE MEN HAVE GALA TIME AT DRIVING PARK

PATRIOTIC THRILLS RUN RIOT WHEN PEOPLE SEE STALWART YANKS IN PARADE OVER PRINCIPAL STREET

GOOD ATTRACTIONS PROVIDED

The soldiers welcome reception and Fourth of July celebration was a success in every way and brought a large crowd of people to Clearfield. The committees in charge had every detail carefully worked out and a fine big time was the result.

The service men did not turn out in the number expected, but about 500 participated in the parade while more than 1000 were served with dinner and other refreshments in the park.

The parade, which was capably handled by Marshal John M. Bain, formed on Front street and at 11:18 marched to the speakers stand at the Junior High school building where the exercises incident to the welcome reception were held.

Mayor John M. Chase presided and after music by the Crescent band of Curwensville, read the preamble and resolutions adopted by Council and extended the freedom of the town to the boys who assisted in "bringing home the bacon" in the huge World war.

Mayor Chase then introduced Hon. J. Frank Snyder, chairman of the Red Cross, who delivered a masterful address of welcome. Mr. Snyder recited the history of the World war and of America's participation therein and complimented the boys highly on the valor displayed on many sanguine battlefields, and gave them warm welcome to Clearfield town and county.

The response on behalf of the men was made by Colonel Frederick B. Kerr, of the Twenty-Third Engineers in his usual briefly eloquent style, after which the parade was re-formed and headed by the B, R. & P. shop band of DuBois marched up to Walnut, across to Second and then down Second to the park.

The service men were formed in platoons and received hearty applause along the line of march. Some fifty Spanish American War Veterans acted as a guard of honor while a considerable number of veterans of the Civil war occupied automobiles and participated in the parade Squire Welty's famous Rockton Drum corps was also a feature of the parade.

The color guard was made up of two Marines Sergeant Jack Barry of Clearfield, and a Mr Temple, of Curwensville, both decorated for heroic service in the World war.

Upon arrival of the parade at the park the men were marched inside the track and arranged in the proper formation and a couple of pictures taken.

By this time dinner was at hand and a bunch of more than three hundred of Clearfield's fairest patrons women had a most appetizing feed waiting the service men in the huge exhibition building The entire assemblage sat down together and the way those soldier boys were fed is beyond description by a hungry reporter Provision had been made for 1500 and 1048 had to devour the good things provided They pretty near accomplished the feat at that and demonstrated that the Yank is some eater, as well as the best fighting man who ever went over the top

When the boys succeeded in getting away from the avalanche of good things and escaped back into the park the K of C booth located just opposite the entrance to the building greeted their eyes and it didn't take the overseas fellow long to tumble to what that meant A bunch of "Case,s" were back of the counters, which were stacked with cigarettes, chewing gum, chocolates and candy and that stuff was handed out to the lads in uniform with a freedom and abandon which won fresh laurels for this justly popular war work organization. Every fellow had his pockets stuffed with smokes and candy and bevys of pretty girls hustled about the park all afternoon simply forcing the gifts of the Knights on the boys.

Sergeant Graffius and his Y. M. C. A. aides were also busy along the same line and in the same way and the service men were never in doubt for a minute of the extent of the welcome and the liberality of Clearfield people.

A throng of some ten or twelve thousand people jammed the park all day and evening and greatly enjoyed the program of amusements provided.

The athetic stunts were divided as follows:

One hundred yard dash—Gregory, 1st; Balagage, 2d; Mack, 3d. Time 11 1-2 seconds.

220 Ward dash—Dud Powell, 1st; Gregory 2nd; Kennard, 3d. Time 22 seconds.

Half mile run—Mohney, 1st; Frank, 2d. Mack, 3d.

Running Broad Jump—Powell, 1st; Robinson 2d; Kennard 3d. 19 1-2 feet.

Running High Jump—Kennard, 1st; Robinson, 2nd; Powell, 3d. Height five feet.

Pole Vault—Powell 1st; Kennard, 2d; Robinson, 3d. Height 9 feet.

One hundred boys and girls participated in a beautiful flag drill under the direction of Secretary Graffius, of the local Y M. C. A.

The wrestling bouts put on by Manager Katzman of the Boardman Athletic Club were heartily enjoyed.

Music Box Petrola, the champion 50-pound kid won from Comical Joe Krosky, of Boardman

Sailor Roberts, Manager Katzman's champion, easily downed Soldier Burke, the Phillippine champ.

"Tunk" Edwards and Bill Gardner grappled to a draw.

The baseball game resulted Clearfield, 4; DuBois, 3.

Colonel Kerr, the Mayor and the Reception Committee reviewed the parade from the reviewing stand erected at the Court House. Among the number on the stand were Alexander Livingston, 92 years of age and his friend 'Squire J Bish Shaw, who has passed his 91st birthday. These two venerable good citizens are remarkably hale and heartly despite their burden of years and were much pleased at the fine showing the boys made

There were a total of 1084 service men admitted to the park during the day.

W. I. SWOOPE ORATOR AT KANE

Deputy Attorney General William I. Swoope delivered the chief address at Kane, Pa., on the Fourth of July, to an audience of ten thousand people at the dedication of a monument to the dead soldiers, and in celebration of the home-coming of those who returned.

[illegible] NEW CONN[illegible] MURDER [illegible]

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 5.—Bringing with him the dead body of Miss Freda Lesser, of Los Angeles, whom he said he had murdered at a lonely spot near [illegible] when she rejected his proffer of marriage, Harry S. New reported to the police department and asked to be placed under arrest. He told the police he is a son of United States Senator Harry H. New by his fourth wife, nee Mrs. Lula Burgen. He said he had been living with his father and sister at Glen Valley. He said [illegible] was divorced from [illegible] New fifteen years ago and is now visiting in Indianapolis, having [illegible] Linden.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—"I cannot discuss that matter," said Senator Harry H. New today when asked if he knew anything of a man arrested in Los Angeles giving the name of Harry S. New and claiming to be the Senator's son.

MRS. AMANDA SHUGERT

On last Tuesday morning this estimable and aged lady of Wallaceton fell asleep environed by the stillness of the early hours and the darkness to mortal eyes, the while her inner sight beheld the radiance of the bright and morning star and her spirit interpreted "songs in the night" as the choice melodies from heaven.

Hers was a choice spirit. With her patience was indeed a virtue limited the peculiar uncertainties of life and the recurrent thirsts of bodily suffering. She had been for many years a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church in Wallaceton. The funeral service was conducted on Thursday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. Franklin A. Lawson, after which interment was made at Philipsburg.

Mrs Shugert was born near Blue Ball and spent the whole of her life [illegible] of that place. She [illegible] of David and Eliza [illegible] maiden days she was united in marriage to Aaron James Shugert who entered the Valley of Shadows some seventeen years ago, leaving her to the mercy of the then [illegible] years, years freighted with [illegible], with her chief requisite for the enforced task an abundant faith in the Heavenly Father and the memory of a great love.

She is survived by four brothers, George, Alexander and Andrew of Philipsburg, and Frank of Brighton, N. J. Also by nine children: Harry, of Morrisdale; David and Aaron, of Altoona; Wallace, of Blue Ball; Walter, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Charles, of Clearfield; Mrs. Wm. S. (Carrie) Bressler, Mrs. Wm. (Ruth) English, and Mrs. P. P. (Lida) Guthrie, of Wallaceton; while twenty-five grand children and eight great grand children rise up to call her blessed.

BOTH VISITING BANDS WERE FINE

Clearfield people had the pleasure of listening to two fine bands yesterday. The Crescent band from Curwensville, one of the very best musical organizations in this section, and already familiar to and a favorite with Clearfield audiences, added to their laurels by extra fine music during the parade and at the park and were heartily applauded at all times.

The B. R. & P. shop band from DuBois, an aggregation of 45 of the best musicians in the big city, made its first appearance in Clearfield and out of deference to their initial visit were accorded the honor of leading the parade. They were dressed in the nattiest kind of white fatigue uniforms and not only presented a decidedly handsome appearance but charmed all hearers with fine music. They made a great hit in Clearfield and sure will be welcome to come again and many more times.

DuBois certainly has reason to be proud of her Boys' Brigade Band and that B. R. & P. Shops Band. They are both crackerjack musical organizations.

Clarence Watson is spending a few days in Pittsburgh as the guest of his brother Paul.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

REV. [illegible] B. FITZWATER, D. D., Professor of English Bible in the [illegible] Institute of Chicago.)

[illegible] by Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR JULY 6

THE CHURCH: ITS LIFE AND WORK.

LESSON TEXTS—Acts 2:1-4, 37-47; I Thess. 5:11-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it.—Eph. 5:25.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—I Cor. 12: 4-31; Eph. 1:15-23; 4:11-16; 5:25-27; Rev. 1: 10-20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Our Father's House.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Should Love the Church.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—What the Church Does for Us and What We Should Do for the Church.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit and Mission of the Church.

I. The Origin of the Church (Acts 2:1-4).

Fifty days after the passover, while the 120 men and women were "with one accord in one place" the Holy Spirit came upon them and baptized them into one body (I Cor. 12:13). Thus was begun the body called the church. The church had its beginning at Pentecost. The believers were united around the resurrected Christ as head.

II. Conditions of Entrance Into the Church (Acts 2:37-41).

After the coming of the Spirit at Pentecost Peter witnessed to the death and resurrection of Christ. Through this testimony the Spirit convicted these Jews of their sins. In their desperate need they cried out: "What shall we do?" Peter's reply indicated the steps into the church.

(1) Belief in Jesus Christ as Savior. His argument proved that Jesus whom they had crucified was the Messiah.

(2) Repentance. Every one entering the church should repent; should change his mind and attitude toward Jesus Christ.

(3) Be baptized. The divinely appointed method for the public confession of Jesus Christ is baptism. Those who have believed in Jesus Christ should receive this tangible ordinance, which symbolizes our identification with Christ in his death, burial and resurrection.

(4) Receive remission of sins. Those who have been united to Jesus Christ have their sins removed; there is an entire cancellation of guilt. They have a standing before God which is absolutely perfect.

(5) Receive the Holy Spirit. The gift of the Holy Spirit is the birthright of every regenerated soul who is obedient to Christ.

III. A Portrait of the Primitive Church (Acts 2:42-47).

1. They continued in the apostles' doctrine (v. 42). Instead of being taught by the scribes they are now taught by the apostles. They have turned away from their blind guides and are following new ones.

2. They continued in fellowship, around Christ as the head (v. 42). The breaking of bread illustrated the oneness of believers in Christ. As all partook of one loaf, so all believers are one in Christ.

3. They continued in prayer (v. 42). The ideal church is a praying church.

4. They had a community of goods (vv. 43-45). They had all things in common. Those that had possessions sold them and distribution was made to every one as he had need.

5. They were filled with praise (v. 46). All those who have had the experience of the life of God being poured into them are filled with praise, and gratitude must express itself.

IV. The Mutual Duties of Officers and Members of the Church (I Thess. 5:11-15).

1. Mutual intercourse for comfort and edification (v. 11). There is no caste in the church of Jesus Christ; it is a brotherhood.

2. Proper recognition should be given to those who are engaged in spiritual service (v. 12). Only as the grace of God abounds do men and women turn from their secular to spiritual interests. Those who thus respond to the call of God should have popular recognition.

3. Proper respect should be given to church officials (v. 13).

While we should not give worship to those who are leaders in the church of Christ we should give them proper respect. One of the signs of the degeneracy of the age is a lack of respect shown Christian ministers.

4. Live in peace (v. 13). Although there is in the church a diversity of interests and personalities the love of Christ should so fill us that there be no strife in his body.

5. Warn the disorderly (v. 14). As Christ chose twelve and one was a devil, so in the church there will be those who are disorderly. All such should be lovingly warned.

6. Be not retaliative (v. 15). Although others wrong us we should not retaliate.

Growth.

Violent efforts to growth are right in earnestness, but wholly wrong in principle. There is but one principle of growth both for the natural and spiritual, for body and soul. And the principle of growing in grace is once more this: "Consider the lilies how they grow."

Take Second Look.

I am not one of those who do not believe in love at first sight, but I believe in taking a second look.—H. Vincent.

The British Institute of Bankers has decided to extend its membership to women bank employes.

What is an Advertisement?

The word advertisement is derived from advert, which means "to turn the mind toward."

The purpose of advertising is usually to sell something---either service or merchandise. Advertising, therefore, is the art of selling through publicity.

The United States is the leading advertising nation of the world. The story of the success of its merchants and manufacturers through advertising reads more like the tales of the Arabian Nights than the sober facts of the Twentieth Century."

Advertising helps to make a business successful. But advertising cannot---will not, do it alone. The product must be right and the price right. These are first essentials.

Advertisement---noun---derived from the word advert---meaning "to turn the mind toward."

To turn the mind toward what?

Trustworthy goods at trustworthy prices.

DEMPSEY NEW CHAMPION

CHALLENGER WINS EASLIY IN THREE FIERCE ROUNDS

BIG JESS NO MATCH FOR YOUNGER OPPONENT AND RESULT NEVER IN DOUBT FROM OPENING OF FIRST ROUND

WILLARD WORST BEATEN CHAMP

FIRST ROUND—Willard loomed up like a Goliath against his five-inch shorter David and opened the engagement by pumping his long left twice into Dempsey's face with force enough to make the latter blink. The challenger missed a swing and slipping into a clinch landed three body blows with his free left hand, carrying but little force. Willard had him easily in a clinch and partly turning him around used his rapier-like left again, once to the head and once to the body after the break.

Then Dempsey, as if he had got the range, opened his heavy artillery and swung a jarring left to the jaw, followed by a right and left to the body. The almost superhuman power of the punches was immediately apparent. A partly silly, partly stupid expression overspread the champion's face and as he rocked on his heels his whole body quivered. He pulled himself togther and as Dempsey crowded in again, shot a left to the mouth and repeated to the eye. The blows did not even cause his youthful opponent to hesitate and dodging past the outstretched left as it snapped for the third time, he whipped over a right and left almost simultaneously, the blows landing on Willard's jaw and for the first time in his championship career Willard was dropped to the floor. He was up again at the count of six, only to be sent to the canvas with another right as he rose slowly to his feet, the blood beginning to pour from his mouth.

He turned away from his oponent who struck again twice with his right, Willard falling on his hands and knees. When he arose Demsey crowded him into a corner, and with a right and left to the face sent him to the floor again. As he arose a fusillade of body blows dropped him in a corner, where he sat when the bell terminated the round and led Dempsey to believe that Willard had been counted out.

SECOND ROUND—Dempsey started where he left off and Willard with a big cut under his eye appeared to be in a bad way. He managed to swap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right uppercut to the chin. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell partly through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch, but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to batter him almost at will, the champion retaliating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee. When Willard went to his corner he fell heavily into his chair and it was seen that his right eye was completely closed and that side of his face was swollen entirely out of shape while Dempsey was unmarked.

THIRD ROUND—The final round was simply a series of rapid-fire swings, which fell on Willard's face and body with pile-driving power which left Willard completely helpless as he staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes utterly unable to defend himself. Blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp of breath while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Pecord to stop it. Just as the bell rang and Willard collased in his chair he spat out a tooth and it was seen that he was in bad condition.

As he sat lolling from side to side his chief second, Walter Monahan, talked earnestly to him and when Willard nodded his head Monahan walked over and spoke to Pecord. The referee threw up his hands and hurried to Demsey's corner. He gesticulated in the uproar and finally pulled Dempsey toward the center of the ring before the new champion ralized that Willard's seconds had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he grasped the situation he started for Willard's corner and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands and Willard muttered something in reply to Demsey's remarks and the fight had passed into history.

FIRST ISSUE OF LOYAL LEGION PAPER OUT THIS WEEK

The American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the great war, will publish today the first number of its official magazine, "The American Legion Weekly". One of the features of this number will be a cablegram from General John J. Pershing from France, in which he predicts for the Legion a most useful future of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which the American armies fought.

General Pershing says in his message:

"It gives me much pleasure to extend to the American Legion my hearty good wishes for success on the occasion of the first issue of the official paper of the society of veterans of the great war. The Legion is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war."

"The American Legion Weekly as the medium of communication thruout the country, will more closely unite the already strong bonds of comradeship among the members. I predict a most useful future for the Legion and the loyal support of all for the new Weekly."

The Legion's magazine will have an initial circulation of 100,000 copies. Reports from state branches indicate, however, that the organization of local Posts by national service men throughout the entire country is progressing so rapidly that half a million copies will be required within a few weeks. Charters issued to local Posts represent every state in the union.

The initial number of the Weekly will have thirty-two pages. It will contain a historical article describing the inception development, and organization of the Legion, its purposes and immediate program leading up to the National Convention in Minneapolis on November 10, 11, and 12; an article by Major Rupert Hughes, the novelist, on "Unfinished Business," to the effectt that peace does not terminate national service for the four million Americans who went to the War; an article by Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, on "Homes for Soldiers", and an article by Henry Woodhouse, Vice President of the Aerial League of America, on the recent trans-Atlantic flights.

Besides the message from General Pershing, Lord Northcliffe, former President William Howard Taft, and state governors have contributed articles endorsing the American Legion. The weekly also contains cartoons by Briggs and J. Norman Lynd; a sports review by Walter Camp; editorials, a page of humor, and reports from the State branches of the American Legion, showing the progress of organization of local Posts since the meetings of soldier, sailor and marine delegates in Paris and St. Louis.

The new publication was authorized by the St. Louis meeting which dedicated it to be "a national, non-partisan, non-section information service for the American people, a champion of Americanism—Americanism which means independence, security, health, education, more contentment and progress, for every patriot a stake in his own country; to be the torch, the beacon light thrown into our hands by the Americans who fell in battle, and help up as a unique and living monument to that other legion which did not come back."

The editorial staff is composed of former service men of newspaper and magazine experience. George Palmer Putnam of New York City is chairman of the committee in charge of the weekly. Among those associated with him are Robert C. Vance of New Britain, Connecticut; Charles D. Kelly of Detroit, Michigan; Donald McGregor of Washington, D. C.; James S. Juett of Wickliffe, Kentucky; John W. Young of Austin, Texas; and J. Leo Meehan of Salt Lake City, Utah.

In view of the recent admission of women to membership in the London County Council it is interesting to recall that not so very many years ago a fine of $800 was assessed against Miss Cobden for acting as a member of the same body, for which, "being a woman," she was disqualified.

Thousands In Attendance at Great World Sporting Event

H. C. HAMILTON

By H. C. HAMILTON

TOLEDO, OHIO, July 4—At 9 o'clock this morning the gates of the massive arena built at Bayview park here by Tex Rickard and Frank Flournoy swung open for bleacher patrons and the first move of the day for the twelve-round world's championship bout between Jess Willard, champion and Jack Dampsey, challenger, had been made.

A long line of patrons of the ten dollar section was waiting last night. Through the long hours they stuck, some sitting on boxes munching at sandwiches, others alternately standing or lying down.

Rickard hoped to have the cheaper seats filled within an hour after the gates were opened. Shortly thereafter the other gates were to open and what was expected to be the biggest crowd that ever saw a sporting event in the United States was to start through.

The arena built in octagonal shape, is equipped with many entrances each labeled for the section to which it leads. Holders of tickets were to be carefully separated and directed to their particular sections. To make sure that no confusion existed Rickard and Flournoy had engaged 500 soldiers, recently discharged from the service, to act as ushers and social policemen. These men, under the command of former lieutenants and captains, were sworn in as speceial deputies, with power to make arrests. They were armed. They were instructed that the aisles must be kept free. No standing patrons, according to announcement some time ago, were to be allowed.

The structure, it was expected by Jamese J. McLoughlin of San Francisco its designer would seat about 80,000 persons. If all seats are taken it will eclipse by about fifteen thousand the largest crowd ever at a sporting event in the United States. The greatest crowd, if memory is correct, attended the last football game between Yale and Harward universities in the Yale bowl at New Haven, Conn. Estimates then placed the number present at about 82,000, but these figures were cut down considerably by an official announcement, which placed the attendance at something more than 60,000.

The first bout of the day was to start at 10 a. m., according to Ae Thacher (correct) president of the Toledo Athletic club, under the auspices of which the bout was being staged. Something was to take place every minute of the time from then on. At 3 o'clock, the promoters planned to have the championship contenders step into the ring. By 3:30 at the latest, it was stated the bout would be on. Many things can happen, however, at such times, and many persons predicted it would be 4 or later before the principal gladiators of the afternoon would go into action.

The two heavyweights have been in training here for more than thirty days. The work has been hard and fast. Each was trained to the very best of condition. Dempsey suffered a bit of ill luck some weeks ago when an eyelet on a glove used by one of his sparring partners scraped his eyebrow and cut a deep gash. He refrained from boxing until it was healed.

The training period of each was in sharp contrest. Dempsey devoted a great deal of time to building his weight to a point where it would more nearly equal that of Willard for he needed weight to offset the great poundage of the champion. Willard, on the other hand, grieved in camp fat and slow and worked strenuously to take off weight. The process, therefore, was one of building toward each other. The difference in the weights was expected to be about fifty pounds, perhaps a little less.

Willard towers to a heigth of six feet six and a half inches. Dempsey is 6 feet one and a half inch. The difference is startling, but Dempsey's punching power was expected by his followers to offset any advantage superior size gave to the champion.

Betting favored the champion slightly before the battle. Odds of 3 to 1 on Willard were quoted freely about the city a week ago but this has receded. There is a great deal of Dempsey money. He has a host of supporters and they have been willing to risk their pocketbooks on their judgment. Therefore there has been little chance for Willard money to force the odds very high.

Ticket speculators were strongly in evidence with little effort to discourage them. The promoters realized some time ago that this sort of gentry would have to be dealt with, but there was no way in keeping a certain number of tickets out of their hands. With such an enormous number of the tickets on sale to any one who care to take them it was a certainty that some would fall into the hands of speculators.

Transportation facilities to the arena were taxed to their utmost from early hour. The double-tracked system for street cars was crowded with nearly all available rolling stock of the city lines. Huge interurban cars were pressed into service from outlying lines many of which center here. Automobiles passed in a constant stream. Hundreds made the trip afoot.

It was predicted last night that at least 60,000 persons would get into the arena. Twenty thousand seats in the [illegible] the crowds with the fringe.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN FIRST REAL WORLD CHAMPION BOXER

There was no real world's champion in the heavyweight class until John L. Sullivan made his claim of the title after having defeated Jake Kilrain and Paddy Ryan. The title was recognized as vested in him at that time and has been handed down through a succession of pugilists.

Sullivan was the first heavyweight champion under Queensbury rules and engaged in the first heavyweight bout ever contested with gloves when he was defeated by James J. Corbett.

Since Sullivan's time only one champion has held the title who was not an American—Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitz really was an American in everything he did, but he was born in England, and came to this country from Australia. Several foreigners have attempted to wrest the title from holders in this country, but never has the effort been successful.

Sullivan lost his title to Corbett Sept. 7, 1892, at New Orleans.

Corbett was beaten in fourteen rounds at Carson City, Nev., by Bob Fitzsimmons, March 17, 1897.

Fitzsimmons was knocked out in eleven rounds at Coney Island, N. Y., June 9, 1899, by James J. Jeffries.

Jeffries defended his title successfully against several challengers, including Fitzsimmons, whom he knocked out in eight rounds on July 25, 1902, at San Francisco; Tom Sharkey, whom he outpointed in twenty-five rounds at Coney Island, and Jack Monroe, who lasted only two rounds at San Francisco, Aug. 26, 1904.

Jeffries retired in 1905, and after Marvin Hart had been knocked out by Stanley Ketchel in a bout refereed by Jeffries, the champion presented Hart with the title and belt. Jack O'Brien claimed the title, but was given no recognition. The public also disliked to accept Hart and after Tommy Burns had defeated him on Feb. 23, 1906 and was subsequently defeated in 1908 in Australia by Jack Johnson, claimed he became so great that Jeffries was induced to enter the ring to save the title from passing into the hands of a negro.

Jeffries proved an easy mark for Johnson in their memorable meeting on July 4, 1910. The negro won in fifteen rounds.

After Johnson's ascension of the heavyweight throne, the class of big fighters declined steadily. Johnson met Jim Flynn, a good, small man, at Las Vegas, N. Mex., July 4, 1912, and practically knocked him out. Police stopped the unequal contest and the referee gave the decision to Johnson.

Johnson left the country in 1913, going to Europe, and a tournament was held in California for white heavyweights, which was won by Luther McCarty. He was recognized as the heavyweight champion of America.

On May 24, 1913, McCarty met Arthur Pelkey in Calgary, Canada, and was knocked out in the first round. He collapsed and died in the ring.

Pelkey was reluctantly accepted as the white heavyweight champion, but was knocked out in fifteen rounds on Jan. 1, 1914, by Gunboat Smith at San Francisco.

This ended the so-called effort to dig up a white heavyweight championship, for the quality of the boxers was so poor that the public refused to recognize such a title

In the meantime Johnson met and defeated Frank Moran, white heavyweight of Pittsburg, in twenty rounds in Paris.

Jack Johnson agreed to meet Jess Willard on April 5, 1915, in Havana, Cuba, and was knocked out in twenty-six rounds.

Willard has defended his title just once, defeating Frank Moran in a tame ten-round bout in New York, March 25, 1916.

MORRISDALE ANSWERS BASEBALL CHALLENGE

Morrisdale, July 2nd.

James Nixon, Mgr.,
Philipsbur, Pa.

In answer to your challenge to the Morrisdale club in which you agreed to forfeit $50 if your club does not double scores in the contest, would say that we accept the challenge and condition with two exceptions:

1st—We cannot play you July 6th as we have a game for that date.

2nd—we will not play you in Philipsburg but will meet your club any night next week, but game must be played on Morrisdale grounds.

Now, Mr. Nixon, if you issued that challenge as a sportsman and you feel that your team is so much superior to the Morrisdale club I cannot see where you would object to playing the game on the Morrisdale ground. On the other hand, if the challenge was issued as an advertisement bluff why then you will have to hunt a team that will play on your own ground.

GILBERT HILL,
Manager Morrisdale Baseball Club.

FIREMEN GUARANTEE WORTHINESS OF THE CARNIVAL COMING HERE NEXT WEEK

Clearfield Fire Company No. 1 has arranged ot bring the Rubin & Cherry shows to Clearfield next week and this uptodate amusement enterprise will open at the Weaver lots, corner Third street and Leavy avenue Monday afternoon and continue every afternoon and evening during the entire week.

The people of Clearfield generally are entitled to some recreation and real enoyment at this time and the firemen believe they have a week of real pleasure in store for everybody. While the Rubin & Cherry shows are of the carnival brand, they are a real carnival, and so far superior to the aggregatious, self-styled carnivals, afflicting this community or section this season that there can really be no comparison. The Rubin and Cherry shows are a real- incorporated amusement enterprise more in the nature of an uptodate circus with the real carnival spirit and attractions and all the generally present objectionable features eliminated.

The firemen stake their reputation on this show and guarantee to the people of Clearfield and community that not a single objectionable feature will be attempted or shown for one minute during the week. Every show and there will be sixteen in number, will be clean, moral and of genuine merit; no rough stuff or hoodlum boisterousness tolerated, and all may feel free to visit the carnival grounds and attractions at any time and be assured of the very best treatment together with a surfeit of real pleasure and enjoyment.

The proceeds from the week's entertainment will be utilized by the firemen in paying the balance due on their motor hose truck. The boys purchased this machine on their own hook and with their own money, because it was so badly needed and council could not see its way clear to purchase same in view of its already heavy expenditures in motorizing the department and buying hose and other equipment. No. 1's truck cost $1900, and of this sum $1200 was paid down out of the company treasury and fund collected for the purpose during the past three or four years. The balance of $700, with interest for one year is now due and it is hoped to realize this amount from their share of the carnival funds that this show is given. Nobody has been asked to or contributed toward this fund thus far and the fire laddies hope to be able to raise the money without personal solicitation and by this carnival means.

Again guaranteeing the cleanliness and worth of the Rubin & Cherry shows, the fireboys solicit your patronge next week. The shows jump here from Jamestown, N. Y., and on account of the long distance will not arrive in Clearfield before 11 o'clock Sunday night but will be in shape for business Monday afternoon.

The company comes here highly recommended by the press, public and pulpit as being the cleanest and most up-to-date line of shows on the road. There is not one immoral attraction with this company. The company carries no Oriental or 49 camp.

Among the attractions are Jack King's famous L. X. L. ranch, where you see those cowboys and girls riding wild and bucking horses.

The Hawaiian theatre. A company of genuine Hawaiians playing their native instruments and in their latest songs and dances.

The Old Plantation where you see and hear those southern darkies in the good old southern melodies as well as the latest song hits of the day.

The motordrome with its dare devil riders.

John Ruhl's flea circus. Trained live fleas doing almost imposible feats. Don't miss this attraction.

That strange girl.

The double baby.

A $30,000 merry-go-round; the handsomest on the road.

The Whip; be sure to crack it.

The big Eli Ferris Wheel.

These attractions and a number of others will be erected on the circus grounds and open for inspection on Monday night at 7.30

Prof. Mummelo's famous Italian concert band will give a concert in front of the Court House at 2:30 P. M. Monday. Come to town to hear it.

Little Mollie, the champion lady high diver of the world will dive from the top of a ladder 90 feet high into a tank of water four feet in depth every night.

EX-CHAMPION NOW A FULL FLEDGED AGRICULTURIST

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 4. (United Press)—J. J. Jeffries at Burbank reports some nice records being made on two cows but owing to not having any sugar beets to feed, Mr. Jeffries says that these cows are not doing their best."

That's what a western farm journal recently said. It refers to Jim Jeffries, once heavyweight champion of the world.

Jeff has been transferred, at least in part, from the sport to the farm page. He lives out at Burbank, some fifteen miles from Los Angeles, where he gets money and amusement from his big ranch. Jeff is a full-fledged farmer, the farm having been practically his only business interest since local option closed his big cafe here.

Cows, pigs and alfalfa are his specialties.

Early morning sees Jeff trudging out to the fields. A recent telephone call at 8 a. m. brought the answer that "Mr. Jeffries went down to the lower field an hour ago to fix a tractor and he won't be back until noon." He works regular farm-hand hours.

But, although Jeff has transferred his affections from the prize ring to the farm, he still is a familiar figure when there is something doing in the world of sports. He is an ardent baseball fan and it is not unusual to see Jeff and Fran Chance occupying adjoining seats at the ball park in the afternoon and in the evening sitting together at the four round boxing show.

Jeffries paid a visit to Willard's training camp just before the big fellow left for Toledo to finish preparations for his bout with Dempsey. Willard looked good to Jeffries, but Big Jim refused to do more than intimate that he thinks Willard is a winner.

Scrub women in the employ of the State of Massachusetts will hereafter receive a wage of 40 cents an hour under the terms of a measure recently passed by the legislature.

NOT HIS JOB

"I'm not supposed to do that" said he,
"That's not my job and it's not ma care,
So I'll pass it by and leave it there."
And the boss who gave him his weekly pay
Lost more than his wages on him that day.

"I'm not supposed to do that," he said;
"That duty belongs to Jim or Fred"
So a little task that was in his way
That he could have handled without delay,
Was left unfinished; the way was paved
For a heavy loss he could have saved.

And time went on and he kept his place,
And he never altered his easy pace,
And folks remarked on how well he knew
The line of the tasks he was hired to do;
For never once was he known to turn
His hand to things not of his concern.

And there in his foolish rut he stayed,
And for all he did he was fairly paid;
But he never was worth a dollar more
Than he got for his toil when the week was o'er,
For he knew too well when his work was thru,
And he'd done all he was hired to do.

If you want to grow in this world, young man,
You must do every day all the work you can;
And it must be done, take care of it,
If you find a task, though it's not your bit,
And you'll never conquer or rise if you
Do only the things you're supposed to do.

WILLARD AND DEMPSEY ON THE SCALES—Left: Jess Willard proving that he weighs 248 pounds. Right: Jack Dempsey found wanting! The scales show the challenger weighs but 178 pounds but Jack is holding it back with his hand. Real weight said to be 201. (C) Underwood & Underwood.

NEW ELECTION PRECINCT IN JORDAN

Judge Bell made an order July 1st dividing Jordan township into two election precincts. The new district will be known as McCartney Precinct, the boundaries of which are as follows:

Beginning at a point, where Knox, Bigler and Jordan townships join; thence in a northwesterly direction along the Knox and Jordan township line to and along the line of the E. A. Irwin estate to the northwest corner of the same; thence in a southwesterly direction along the line of said estate lands and along line of J. A. McNeel to the Lamborn place and the southwest corner thereof; thence in a southeasterly direction along the Lamborn place to the south east corner thereof; thence in an easterly direction along Thomas Rea estate to upper Lamborn place; thence in an east-southeast direction along the upper Lamborn place and land of Henry Dotts to the Jordan and Beccaria township line; thence along same in a northeasterly direction to and along the Bigler and Jordan township line to the corner of Knox township and place of beginning.

Elections will be held in the McCartney school house and the following election officers will conduct the coming primary election:

Judge—William Patterson.

Majority Inspector—Wm. M. McGonigal.

Minority Inspector—Elzie Pearce.

JONES—WOMER

The Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of the first and prettiest wedding of the season when at three o'clock sharp on Sunday afternoon, June 29th, Rev. John Adams united in marriage Miss Eva A. daughter of Mr and Mrs. L. B. Jones and Walter E. Womer of Munson, Pa.

After the ceremony a reception and luncheon was given at the home of the bride's parents on the Terrace. The house was profusely decorated in the color scheme of pink and white.

The brides gifts were many and beautiful, including a set of Haviland china, cut glass, linen, silver, crystal and money.

The bride is one of Galeton's most popular girls and well known in church and musical circles. The bridegroom is at present employed in the engineering office of the Buffalo & Susquehanna R. R.

After a short honeymoon in New York state they will make their home with the bride's parents until their apartments at 14 East Main street are ready for them.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr and Mrs. George Womer of Munson, Pa., pa

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs L. S. Whitaker and several friends motored to Clarion, Pa., last Sunday and on the return trip had the misfortune to skid on a sharp turn in the road just before entering Brookville and as the result, the car turned over, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Whitaker is suffering from a broken wrist and several bruises but the other members of the party escaped with a shaking up.

C. H. S. class 1916 held a very enjoyable reunion and banquet at the Park Hotel last evening, which was followed by dance in the Moose Hall. Music by Graff Brothers Orchestra of Punxsutawney.

Three-fourths of the population of Curwensville helped swell the crowd at Clearfield and the remaining fourth spent the day at the Pee-Wee's Nest.

Mrs. Atlee Norris of Bloomington who has been ill for several weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Norris of Pike township, was taken to her home on Wednesday.

Miss Lorna Newcomer spent the Fourth with friends at Bellefonte.

Mrs. Wm. Hipps of Filbert street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edith Kephart of Johnstown, Pa.

Mrs. Richard Hanscome and little daughter of Falls Creek are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gates, of Filbert street.

About twenty-five friends of Mr. Emery Daub gave that young man one of the biggest surprises of his life when they gathered at his home Thursday evening, July 3rd, to help him celebrate his birthday and incidentally to usher in the "Grand and Glorious Fourth". The evening was spent in dancing and various games. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woodside and little son and daughter, who motored to Mt. Holly, N. J., a couple weeks ago, arrived home last evening having spent a few days in Chester county on the return trip.

Mrs. H. P. Kirk and little sons Henry and Richard, returned last evening from a two weeks visit with friends and relatives at Philipsburg.

Miss Dorothy Cox of Clearfield attended the party given for Emery Daub Thusday evening.

Mr and Mrs. C. S. Russell and Mr. William Russell motored to Philipsburg yesterday.

Every man, woman and child who had means of locomotion—other than that which they were born with, packed a basket yesterday and betook themselves to some place or other where they could at least put off a pack of fire crackers without getting "in Dutch" with the powers that be.

Messrs. Alex Irvin, Jno. P. Irvin, Thad. Cassidy and Jno. A. Dale will have that part of Susquehanna avenue which their residences front, covered with a heavy coating of some tar preparation to allay the dust which, on account of the continuous travel over this section, is a constant annoyance.

On Monday afternoon the Kings Daughters and the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will give a lawn party on the church lawn.

In the evening there will be a lecture on missionary topics by Mrs. Allie K. Winters, of China, in the church.

GRAMPIAN

A. C. Wood, rural mail carrier on Route No. 1, is off duty owing to having a bad carbuncle on his neck. A substitute is carrying for him. All carriers had a vacation yesterday.

Grampian wants to see more airplanes. We can hear them often but they fly so high we can not see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wrigglesworth of Hollidaysburg are spending the Fourth at the Wrigglesworth home at Hepburnia.

Mrs. John McDevitt is spending a few days at Altoona.

H. B. Clary and family of Harrisburg are visiting relatives and friends here this week.

COURT NOTES

Suit has been entered in the Clearfield county courts by Attorneys James A. Gleason of Dubois and A. M. Liveright of Clearfield, on behalf of Mrs. Anna Polchonki, of DuBois, in which damages to the amount of $20,000 are asked from the Pennsylvania Railroad company for the death of the woman's husband, who was killed at a dangerous grade crossing in DuBois, something more than one year ago.

Polchonki was leading his cow to pasture when struck by a train and ground to pieces. Besides the widow five minor children are interested in the suit.

Taylor & Co., Philadelphia stock brokers, through their attorneys Miller & Hartswick, entered suit in the Prothonotary's office this morning against S. Blaine Stine, of Osceola, in which they seek to recover $4211.25 alleged to be due them on oil stock transactions carried on by the brokers for Mr. Stine.

MURRAY REUNION

The river country was not without its pleasant gatherings yesterday and one of the most delightful reunions ever held was at the home of Kyler Murray at Lecontes Mills. The Murray family of eleven children are getting pretty well scattered over the face of Uncle Sam's territory and this reunion served to bring many of them together with the old folks or the young old folks as the case really is. Mrs. Woodring of Nebraska (Mada) and Boyd, of Portage, were unable to be present.

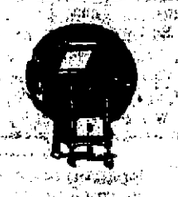
Why It's a Mistake to Delay Your purchase of a NEW EDISON



Most everything you buy wears out, eventually. An automobile, for example—or a suit of clothes. So the longer you delay its purchase the longer you'll have it to enjoy.

Not so with a New Edison. It will outlive you anyway. Every month you delay is just one more month gone from your life—another month in which you might have had your life enriched by music—but didn't.

Under our new plan by which payment can be made so much a month there's no reason why you shouldn't be enjoying your New Edison right now.

The New Edison cost $3,000,000 to perfect. It is the only instrument which successfully meets the test of direct comparison with the living artist's voice or instrument. It will bring into your home the world's best music, sung or played by the world's great artists.

Call tomorrow for a demonstration. "Send it out to the house" will be your verdict.

ANTLERED HERD GATHERING AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 5.—Purple and white bunting envelops this famous resort and Elks heads and clocks with their hands pointing to the mystic hour of eleven are in almost every available niche in honor of visiting members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, who have been coming into town by the hundreds today from every section of the country.

Elkdom's part in the world war will be the keynote of the peace and victory convention of the Grand Lodge, which will get under way Monday for a week's session. Governor Lowden of Illinois has accepted an invitation to deliver the peace oration before the convention.

Among the delegates already arrived there is considerable campaigning going on preliminary to the election of new Grand Lodge officers. Most interest centers in the contest for the office of Grand Exalted Ruler, to succeed Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis. The candidates whose names are most frequently heard among the delegates are Frank L. Rain of Fairbury, Neb., and Albert T. Brophy of Brooklyn.

"PUT AMERICA AT DISPOSAL OF MANKIND" SAYS WILSON IN SPEECH ENROUTE HOME

IDEALISM AND SERVICE IS LEAGUE AMENDMENT

INTIMATES THAT HE WILL EXPECT PEOPLE AT HOME TO RATIFY HIS PEACE TABLE ASSURANCE

READY TO STUMP THAT COUNTRY

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, July 5—Secretary Tumulty announced definately this afternoon that President Wilson would make an address to the Senate on Thursday afternoon.

"We must continue to put America at the disposal of mankind." This was the theme of the address made on board ship by Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, enroute to Washington from where he will carry on a vigorous speaking campaign in a herculean effort to win approval of the peace treaty entire including the League of Nations. His address was, in effect, a reply to that large element in the United States who are now in favor of withdrawing from Euroean politics and adopting a policy of "isolated Americanism."

The President made it plain that the Allied governments expected that America would continue in the realm of international politics and implied that America had committed herself to this course in the long days of labor over the peace table. He also intimated that he was prepared to extend his speaking tour over any period he might deem necessary to bring about a conversion to his ideas of America's place in the sun as a share holder in the political destinies and responsibilities of the human race under the whole canopy of heaven.

The address is significant in that it is believed to forecast the keynote of the intensive campaign for the principle of the League of Nations. The President is plainly not for the literal application of the principle of "America First" except in so far as America being for idealism. It also is significant in its implication that our Allies look to the United States to continue in the role of spiritual and moral guide, financial protector and general savior of European morale.

DIRIGIBLE R 34 SHORT OF PETROL BUT WILL REACH MINEOLA SUNDAY

BULLETIN

MINEOLA, July 5—The Commander of the Mineola Aviation Field has just received a wireless from the R-34 saying she would land here tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, July 5—The gasoline supply of the British Dirigible R-34 is running short as she battles with a strong head wind over Nova Scotia according to wireless intercepted by the Navy department today.

The navy department received a message as follows: "Flying across Nova Scotia. Strong head winds, petrol beginning to get short. Signed Commanding Officer."

A second message was received reading "Could destroyer proceed if required to southern end of Bay of Funday to take his Majesty's air ship R-34 in tow." Signed Lansdowne.

The U. S. S. Fatilla a steam yacht now at Croft Island, Me., been ordered to proceed to the location designated by the R-34. Two destroyers are also ordered to go to the assistance of the R-34 now running out of gasoline.

OLD PENNSYLVANIA QUIET YESTERDAY

HARRISURG, PA., July 5—State police headquarters here today announced that not the slightest disorder was reported from any section of the state Lumb. acing head of the department attributes the orderly state of affairs to the eternal vigilance of all police officers throughout the state and to the effect of publicity, the ed element being constantly advised through the newspapers that the officers were watching closely for any signs of organized or unorganized demonstrations or bomb plots

BIRDMAN CARRYING PICTURES OF FIGHT HAD TO LAND HERE

The crowd at the park last evening were treated to a few 'aeroplane thrills" not on the regular program. About 8 o'clock a plane suddenly appeared in the sky right over the fair grounds heading from west to east and with a few preliminary whirls which denoted something out of whack with the flyer began to rapidly swoop down toward the landing field inside the ring. The airman misjudged his field a little and arrived almost at the upper end of the park before he got near enough to land. Being prevented from steering to the left on account of the fireworks display already in place and fearing to foul the wires at the west end of the park, the pilot dropped down onto the track and hopping up high enough to clear the wires came down "on his nose" just outside the fence in the field back of the silk mill.

A huge crowd immediately surrounded the fallen birdman and found him out taking stock of his machine, landing wheels of which were badly damaged.

The pilot proved to be Lieutenant Murray, who in a speedy little Sopwith Camel machine had essayed the flight from the ringside at Toledo, Ohio, with pictures of the Willard-Dempsey champion prizefight for William R. Heart's New York American.

Several of the New York newspapers, with their usual enterprise, had arranged to get their pictures of the big scrap by airplane in an effort to get the news ahead of their rivals, it being expected that the flyers would beat all train service by six or eight hours

Lieutenant Murray was quite severely shaken by his bounce over the wires and fence but after arranging for watchmen to gaurd the machine secured his pictures of the fight and hopping into an automobile with Earl McHenry and Cliff Cowdrick was whisked over to the Orcutt & Buchanan garage where he got a fast machine and driver and was rushed overland to Tyrone and continued his trip to New York by rail.

He was forced to land on account of engine trouble and will send two mechanics to Clearfield to get the machine in shape to fly back home to New York.

He said two other birdmen who attempted the record flight from Toledo had tumbled down in his sight and he felt sure one of them at least had been killed. There were four machines in the original start

"VERY INTERESTING" SAYS BEN CHASE OF ATTEMPT ON LIFE

Benjamin F Chase, Esq., of Clearfield who is U. S. Consul at San Jose, Costa Rica, appears to be having a real old-fashioned "hot time in the old town" down among the "spiggotys". The Costa Ricans have been revolting for a long time and as the United States Government refuses to recognize President Tinoco, Mr Chase's lot is rather a hard one

Some time ago the consulate was bombed and on June 20th last, a government policeman tried to assassinate the plucky Clearfield citizen. The New York World of July 2d speaks of the incident as follows —

F S Sisterman merchant of 60 Broadway, who arrived yesterday by the United Fruit steamship Tivives from Port Limon said the Tinoco Government of Costa Rica was on its last legs and that Tinoco, whom the United States had never recognized, could not hold his job much longer

An attempt on the life of Benjamin F Chase, American Consul at San Jose had been made on Friday, June 20, by a Government policeman Mr Chase told Mr Sisterman that the Costa Rican cop stood across from Mr Chase's porch and fired three times at him One bullet passed through his clothing, another went wild and the third struck near the door Mr Chase remained serenely to the merchant. 'Things are getting very interesting here"

HIGHWAY DEPT. SETS NEW WORLD CONTRACT RECORD

HARRISBURG, July 3—A new world's record will be set by the Pennsylvania State Highway Department Tuesday July 8 when bids will be opened for the construction of approximately 107 miles of modern-type pavement the cost of which will range from $4,000,000 to $4,500,000.

An instance is on record where bids were asked for the grading and drainage of a greater mileage, but no Commonwealth has ever asked at one time for bids for the construction of so great a mileage as that represented in the "letting" of July 8.

The exact amount of construction for which the department will ask for bids July 8, is 106.96 miles. Before the close of July over 500 miles of Highway will be in the course of building in various parts of the Commonwealth.

This tremendous construction program has resulted in the institution of a very large number of detours, inasmuch as a road cannot be used while it is being rebuilt. The Highway department's bureau of information has inaugurated a weekly bulletin service concerning these detours, explaining in detail where they are.

The longest strip of Highway for which construction is planned and for which bids will be opened July 8. Is that section of the Lackawanna Trail which lies in Clark's Summit, Glenburn, Dalton and LaPlume boroughs and Abington Clinton and Nicholson tonswhips, in Wyoming and Lackawanna counties The total length of this construction is 71,063 feet. This is approximately 13 1-2 miles and is a record breaker for Pennsylvania, insofar as continuous construction is concerned. The Lackawanna Trail is an important northeastern Pennsylvania thoroughfare leading from Scranton to Binghamton, New York.

Another important piece of construction is that in Derry township Westmoreland county on the William Penn highway, where 32,047 feet of reinforced concrete and hilside brick are planned to connect Blairsville and New Alexandria.

There are twenty-two projects in the letting of July 8 In Bradford county almost nine miles of road are planned from Towanda north toward Waverly. In Bucks county a concrete road is to be put down north and south of Plumsteadville on the Easton-Dowlestown-Philadelphia road. A very important thoroughfare is that between Slippery Rock and Butler on road north from Pittsburgh where the program calls for about eight miles of concrete. There are two projects in Clearfield county—one connecting Clearfield and Curwensville and the other extending from DuBois toward Reynoldsville Construction is planned from Osceola, Clearfield county, south over two miles into Centre county. In Delaware county over four miles of road are to be built north from Chester. In Fayette county about six miles of concrete are planned from a point north of Smithfield to the West Virginia line on the main road south from Uniontown. Another six mile trip is that from Slatington south toward Allentown in Lehigh county A second Lehigh county job is that calling for three miles of concrete from Allentown south toward Emaus Four miles of concrete are planned for Luzerne county in the vicinity of Harvey's Lake There are three Somerset county projects. One is from Salisbury to the Maryland line another means seven miles of concrete between Berlin and Garrett; the third calls for six miles of concrete from Pennertown north toward Johnstown In York county it is proposed to construct six miles of concrete from York to a point south of Dallastown on the road to Baltimore.

THE LAST BARK JOB

VETERANS OF OLD FIFTH RE-UNED HERE YESTERDAY

The 12th annual reunion of the Fifth Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, Spanish-American War Veterans, was held at the Park yesterday afternoon. About one hundred members of the Reunion Association participated.

President M. E Troxell called the assemblage to order and after extending a hearty welcome to the visitors introduced Walter Welch Esq., as Chairman of the meeting.

Matters of interest to the veterans were discussed and disposed of and Indiana chosen as the place for next year's reunion.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolutions on the death of Lt. Wm. P. Kelley late of Co. E., James P. Jack. late of Co. F, and Albert J. Bowman, late of Co. A, Fifth Regt. Inf., Pa. Vols., Spanish-American war.

Your committee appointed to present suitable resolution on the death of the borthers above named, respectfully report:

Whereas during the past year Lt. W. P. Kelley, late of Co. E, Private James P. Jack, late of Co. F, and Private Albert J. Bowman of Co. A, have answered the last roll call, and due announcement thereof has been made to this Reunion, therefore, resolved

That in the death of Lieut. Kelley and Privates Jack and Bowman, this association has lost active and loyal members of our organization; that in their loss we recognize that our nation has lost patriotic citizens who in the hour of their country's need answered its call, enrolled in the ranks of their country's soldiers, and faithfully upheld the honor of our country and the best traditions of its volunteer soldiers.

Resolved, that we deeply deplore our loss in the death of these, our comrades and brothers.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this organization and a copy presented to the relatives of our deceased brothers.

Respectfully submitted,
J. P. KENNEDY.
JOHN E. IRVIN.
A. H. WOODWARD.

The attendance was not quite as large as is usually the case on account of so many of the towns in the district having holiday celebrations

Major John C Dunkle, of Huntingdon, who has the unique distinction of having served in the Civil War, the Spanish-American and the world war, was among the distinguished members participating in the reunion.

The following officers for next year were chosen:—

President.—Chas W Fee, of Indiana.

First Vice President.—John W. Feight, of Indiana.

Second Vice President—Maj. Chas. W. McClain, of Indiana

Secretary—Major John C. Dunkle, of Huntingdon.

Treasurer—L D. McCullough, of Saltsburg.

Chaplain.—C W Bathurst, of Huntingdon.

BOYS' BRIGADE BAND HERE

Prof Lowe and his Boys' Brigade Band of DuBois stopped in Clearfield long enough Thursday afternoon to give a delightful concert in front of The Dimeling hotel.

The band was making an overland trip to Washington, D C., traveling in about one dozen automobiles. They continued their journey as far as Altoona where they appeared in the parade yesterday.

They leave Altoona today and go to Bedford, Cumberland, Gettysburg, Harrisburg and to Washington and expect to be gone ten days

They are first class musicians and a jolly bunch Several DuBois people including Dr Pollum, as Medical Director, accompanied the party.

SERVICE MEN HAVE GALA TIME AT DRIVING PARK

PATRIOTIC THRILLS RUN RIOT WHEN PEOPLE SEE STALWART YANKS IN PARADE OVER PRINCIPAL STREET

GOOD ATTRACTIONS PROVIDED

The soldiers welcome reception and Fourth of July celebration was a success in every way and brought a large crowd of people to Clearfield. The committees in charge had every detail carefully worked out and a fine big time was the result.

The service men did not turn out in the number expected, but about 500 participated in the parade while more than 1000 were served with dinner and other refreshments in the park.

The parade, which was capably handled by Marshal John M. Bain, formed on Front street and at 11:18 marched to the speakers stand at the Junior High school building where the exercises incident to the welcome reception were held.

Mayor John M. Chase presided and after music by the Crescent band of Curwensville, read the preamble and resolutions adopted by Council and extended the freedom of the town to the boys who assisted in "bringing home the bacon" in the huge World war.

Mayor Chase then introduced Hon. J. Frank Snyder, chairman of the Red Cross, who delivered a masterful address of welcome. Mr. Snyder recited the history of the World war and of America's participation therein and complimented the boys highly on the valor displayed on many sanguine battlefields, and gave them warm welcome to Clearfield town and county.

The response on behalf of the men was made by Colonel Frederick B. Kerr, of the Twenty-Third Engineers in his usual briefly eloquent style, after which the parade was re-formed and headed by the B, R. & P. shop band of DuBois marched up to Walnut, across to Second and then down Second to the park.

The service men were formed in platoons and received hearty applause along the line of march. Some fifty Spanish American War Veterans acted as a guard of honor while a considerable number of veterans of the Civil war occupied automobiles and participated in the parade Squire Welty's famous Rockton Drum corps was also a feature of the parade.

The color guard was made up of two Marines Sergeant Jack Barry of Clearfield, and a Mr Temple, of Curwensville, both decorated for heroic service in the World war.

Upon arrival of the parade at the park the men were marched inside the track and arranged in the proper formation and a couple of pictures taken.

By this time dinner was at hand and a bunch of more than three hundred of Clearfield's fairest patrons women had a most appetizing feed waiting the service men in the huge exhibition building The entire assemblage sat down together and the way those soldier boys were fed is beyond description by a hungry reporter Provision had been made for 1500 and 1048 had to devour the good things provided They pretty near accomplished the feat at that and demonstrated that the Yank is some eater, as well as the best fighting man who ever went over the top

When the boys succeeded in getting away from the avalanche of good things and escaped back into the park the K of C booth located just opposite the entrance to the building greeted their eyes and it didn't take the overseas fellow long to tumble to what that meant A bunch of "Case,s" were back of the counters, which were stacked with cigarettes, chewing gum, chocolates and candy and that stuff was handed out to the lads in uniform with a freedom and abandon which won fresh laurels for this justly popular war work organization. Every fellow had his pockets stuffed with smokes and candy and bevys of pretty girls hustled about the park all afternoon simply forcing the gifts of the Knights on the boys.

Sergeant Graffius and his Y. M. C. A. aides were also busy along the same line and in the same way and the service men were never in doubt for a minute of the extent of the welcome and the liberality of Clearfield people.

A throng of some ten or twelve thousand people jammed the park all day and evening and greatly enjoyed the program of amusements provided.

The athetic stunts were divided as follows:

One hundred yard dash—Gregory, 1st; Balagage, 2d; Mack, 3d. Time 11 1-2 seconds.

220 Ward dash—Dud Powell, 1st; Gregory 2nd; Kennard, 3d. Time 22 seconds.

Half mile run—Mohney, 1st; Frank, 2d. Mack, 3d.

Running Broad Jump—Powell, 1st; Robinson 2d; Kennard 3d. 19 1-2 feet.

Running High Jump—Kennard, 1st; Robinson, 2nd; Powell, 3d. Height five feet.

Pole Vault—Powell 1st; Kennard, 2d; Robinson, 3d. Height 9 feet.

One hundred boys and girls participated in a beautiful flag drill under the direction of Secretary Graffius, of the local Y M. C. A.

The wrestling bouts put on by Manager Katzman of the Boardman Athletic Club were heartily enjoyed.

Music Box Petrola, the champion 50-pound kid won from Comical Joe Krosky, of Boardman

Sailor Roberts, Manager Katzman's champion, easily downed Soldier Burke, the Phillippine champ.

"Tunk" Edwards and Bill Gardner grappled to a draw.

The baseball game resulted Clearfield, 4; DuBois, 3.

Colonel Kerr, the Mayor and the Reception Committee reviewed the parade from the reviewing stand erected at the Court House. Among the number on the stand were Alexander Livingston, 92 years of age and his friend 'Squire J Bish Shaw, who has passed his 91st birthday. These two venerable good citizens are remarkably hale and heartly despite their burden of years and were much pleased at the fine showing the boys made

There were a total of 1084 service men attended to the park during the day.

W. I. SWOOPE ORATOR AT KANE

Deputy Attorney General William I. Swoope delivered the chief address at Kane, Pa., on the Fourth of July, to an audience of ten thousand people at the dedication of a monument to the dead soldiers, and in celebration of the home-coming of those who returned.

[illegible] NEW CONVICT MURDER [illegible]

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 5.—Bringing with him the dead body of Miss Freda Lesser, of Los Angeles, whom he said he had murdered at a lonely spot near Mt. Lowe when she rejected his proffer of marriage, Harry S. New reported to the police department and asked to be placed under arrest. He told the police he is a son of United States Senator Harry H. He said [illegible] was divorced from [illegible] New fifteen years ago and is now visiting in Indianapolis, having [illegible] Linden.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—"I cannot discuss that matter," said Senator Harry H. New today when asked if he knew anything of a man arrested in Los Angeles giving the name of Harry S. New and claiming to be the Senator's son.

MRS. AMANDA SHUGERT

On last Tuesday morning this estimable and aged lady of Wallaceton fell asleep environed by the stillness of the early hours and the darkness to mortal eyes, the while her inner sight beheld the radiance of the bright and morning star and her spirit interpreted "songs in the night" as the choice melodies from heaven.

Hers was a choice spirit. With her patience was indeed a virtue limited the peculiar uncertainties of life and the recurrent throbs of bodily suffering. She had been for many years a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church in Wallaceton. The funeral service was conducted on Thursday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. Franklin A. Lawson, after which interment was made at Philipsburg.

Mrs Shugert was born near Blue Ball and spent the whole of her life [illegible] of that place. She [illegible] of David and Eliza [illegible] maiden days she was united in marriage to Aaron James Shugert who entered the Valley of Shadows some seventeen years ago, leaving her to the mercy of the then [illegible] years, years freighted with [illegible], with her chief requisite for the enforced task an abundant faith in the Heavenly Father and the memory of a great love.

She is survived by four brothers, George, Alexander and Andrew of Philipsburg, and Frank of Brighton, N. J. Also by nine children: Harry, of Morrisdale; David and Aaron, of Altoona; Wallace, of Blue Ball; Walter, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Charles, of Clearfield; Mrs. Wm. S. (Carrie) Bressler, Mrs. Wm. (Ruth) English, and Mrs. P. P. (Lida) Guthrie, of Wallaceton; while twenty-five grand children and eight great grand children rise up to call her blessed.

BOTH VISITING BANDS WERE FINE

Clearfield people had the pleasure of listening to two fine bands yesterday. The Crescent band from Curwensville, one of the very best musical organizations in this section, and already familiar to and a favorite with Clearfield audiences, added to their laurels by extra fine music during the parade and at the park and were heartily applauded at all times.

The B. R. & P. shop band from DuBois, an aggregation of 45 of the best musicians in the big city, made its first appearance in Clearfield and out of deference to their initial visit were accorded the honor of leading the parade. They were dressed in the nattiest kind of white fatigue uniforms and not only presented a decidedly handsome appearance but charmed all hearers with fine music. They made a great hit in Clearfield and sure will be welcome to come again and many more times.

DuBois certainly has reason to be proud of her Boys' Brigade Band and that B. R. & P. Shops Band. They are both crackerjack musical organizations.

Clarence Watson is spending a few days in Pittsburgh as the guest of his brother Paul.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

REV. [illegible] B. FITZWATER, D. D., Professor of English Bible in the [illegible] Institute of Chicago.)

[illegible] by Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR JULY 6

THE CHURCH: ITS LIFE AND WORK.

LESSON TEXTS—Acts 2:1-4, 37-47; I Thess. 4:11-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it.—Eph. 5:25.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—I Cor. 12: 4-31; Eph. 1:15-23; 4:11-16; 5:25-27; Rev. 1: 10-20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Our Father's House.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Should Love the Church.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—What the Church Does for Us and What We Should Do for the Church.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit and Mission of the Church.

I. The Origin of the Church (Acts 2:1-4).

Fifty days after the passover, while the 120 men and women were "with one accord in one place" the Holy Spirit came upon them and baptized them into one body (I Cor. 12:13). Thus was begun the body called the church. The church had its beginning at Pentecost. The believers were united around the resurrected Christ as head.

II. Conditions of Entrance Into the Church (Acts 2:37-41).

After the coming of the Spirit at Pentecost Peter witnessed to the death and resurrection of Christ. Through this testimony the Spirit convicted these Jews of their sins. In their desperate need they cried out: "What shall we do?" Peter's reply indicated the steps into the church.

(1) Belief in Jesus Christ as Savior. His argument proved that Jesus whom they had crucified was the Messiah.

(2) Repentance. Every one entering the church should repent; should change his mind and attitude toward Jesus Christ.

(3) Be baptized. The divinely appointed method for the public confession of Jesus Christ is baptism. Those who have believed in Jesus Christ should receive this tangible ordinance, which symbolizes our identification with Christ in his death, burial and resurrection.

(4) Receive remission of sins. Those who have been united to Jesus Christ have their sins removed; there is an entire cancellation of guilt. They have a standing before God which is absolutely perfect.

(5) Receive the Holy Spirit. The gift of the Holy Spirit is the birthright of every regenerated soul who is obedient to Christ.

III. A Portrait of the Primitive Church (Acts 2:42-47).

1. They continued in the apostles' doctrine (v. 42). Instead of being taught by the scribes they are now taught by the apostles. They have turned away from their blind guides and are following new ones.

2. They continued in fellowship, around Christ as the head (v. 42). The breaking of bread illustrated the oneness of believers in Christ. As all partook of one loaf, so all believers are one in Christ.

3. They continued in prayer (v. 42). The ideal church is a praying church.

4. They had a community of goods (vv. 43-45). They had all things in common. Those that had possessions sold them and distribution was made to every one as he had need.

5. They were filled with praise (v. 46). All those who have had the experience of the life of God being poured into them are filled with praise, and gratitude must express itself.

IV. The Mutual Duties of Officers and Members of the Church (I Thess. 5:11-15).

1. Mutual intercourse for comfort and edification (v. 11). There is no caste in the church of Jesus Christ; it is a brotherhood.

2. Proper recognition should be given to those who are engaged in spiritual service (v. 12). Only as the grace of God abounds do men and women turn from their secular to spiritual interests. Those who thus respond to the call of God should have popular recognition.

3. Proper respect should be given to church officials (v. 13).

While we should not give worship to those who are leaders in the church of Christ we should give them proper respect. One of the signs of the degeneracy of the age is a lack of respect shown Christian ministers.

4. Live in peace (v. 13). Although there is in the church a diversity of interests and personalities the love of Christ should so fill us that there be no strife in his body.

5. Warn the disorderly (v. 14). As Christ chose twelve and one was a devil, so in the church there will be those who are disorderly. All such should be lovingly warned.

6. Be not retaliative (v. 15). Although others wrong us we should not retaliate.

Growth.

Violent efforts to growth are right in earnestness, but wholly wrong in principle. There is but one principle of growth both for the natural and spiritual, for body and soul. And the principle of growing in grace is once more this: "Consider the lilies how they grow."

Take Second Look.

I am not one of those who do not believe in love at first sight, but I believe in taking a second look.—H. Vincent.

The British Institute of Bankers has decided to extend its membership to women bank employes.

What is an Advertisement?

The word advertisement is derived from advert, which means "to turn the mind toward."

The purpose of advertising is usually to sell something---either service or merchandise. Advertising, therefore, is the art of selling through publicity.

The United States is the leading advertising nation of the world. The story of the success of its merchants and manufacturers through advertising reads more like the tales of the Arabian Nights than the sober facts of the Twentieth Century."

Advertising helps to make a business successful. But advertising cannot---will not, do it alone. The product must be right and the price right. These are first essentials.

Advertisement---noun---derived from the word advert---meaning "to turn the mind toward."

To turn the mind toward what?

Trustworthy goods at trustworthy prices.

DEMPSEY NEW CHAMPION

CHALLENGER WINS EASLIY IN THREE FIERCE ROUNDS

BIG JESS NO MATCH FOR YOUNGER OPPONENT AND RESULT NEVER IN DOUBT FROM OPENING OF FIRST ROUND

WILLARD WORST BEATEN CHAMP

FIRST ROUND—Willard loomed up like a Goliath against his five-inch shorter David and opened the engagement by pumping his long left twice into Dempsey's face with force enough to make the latter blink. The challenger missed a swing and slipping into a clinch landed three body blows with his free left hand, carrying but little force. Willard had him easily in a clinch and partly turning him around used his rapier-like left again, once to the head and once to the body after the break.

Then Dempsey, as if he had got the range, opened his heavy artillery and swung a jarring left to the jaw, followed by a right and left to the body. The almost superhuman power of the punches was immediately apparent. A partly silly, partly stupid expression overspread the champion's face and as he rocked on his heels his whole body quivered. He pulled himself togther and as Dempsey crowded in again, shot a left to the mouth and repeated to the eye. The blows did not even cause his youthful opponent to hesitate and dodging past the outstretched left as it snapped for the third time, he whipped over a right and left almost simultaneously, the blows landing on Willard's jaw and for the first time in his championship career Willard was dropped to the floor. He was up again at the count of six, only to be sent to the canvas with another right as he rose slowly to his feet, the blood beginning to pour from his mouth.

He turned away from his oponent who struck again twice with his right, Willard falling on his hands and knees. When he arose Demsey crowded him into a corner, and with a right and left to the face sent him to the floor again. As he arose a fusillade of body blows dropped him in a corner, where he sat when the bell terminated the round and led Dempsey to believe that Willard had been counted out.

SECOND ROUND—Dempsey started where he left off and Willard with a big cut under his eye appeared to be in a bad way. He managed to swap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right uppercut to the chin. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell partly through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch, but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to batter him almost at will, the champion retaliating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee. When Willard went to his corner he fell heavily into his chair and it was seen that his right eye was completely closed and that side of his face was swollen entirely out of shape while Dempsey was unmarked.

THIRD ROUND—The final round was simply a series of rapid-fire swings, which fell on Willard's face and body with pile-driving power which left Willard completely helpless as he staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes utterly unable to defend himself. Blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp of breath while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Pecord to stop it. Just as the bell rang and Willard collased in his chair he spat out a tooth and it was seen that he was in bad condition.

As he sat lolling from side to side his chief second, Walter Monahan, talked earnestly to him and when Willard nodded his head Monahan walked over and spoke to Pecord. The referee threw up his hands and hurried to Demsey's corner. He gesticulated in the uproar and finally pulled Dempsey toward the center of the ring before the new champion ralized that Willard's seconds had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he grasped the situation he started for Willard's corner and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands and Willard muttered something in reply to Demsey's remarks and the fight had passed into history.

FIRST ISSUE OF LOYAL LEGION PAPER OUT THIS WEEK

The American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the great war, will publish today the first number of its official magazine, "The American Legion Weekly". One of the features of this number will be a cablegram from General John J. Pershing from France, in which he predicts for the Legion a most useful future of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which the American armies fought.

General Pershing says in his message:

"It gives me much pleasure to extend to the American Legion my hearty good wishes for success on the occasion of the first issue of the official paper of the society of veterans of the great war. The Legion is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war."

"The American Legion Weekly as the medium of communication thruout the country, will more closely unite the already strong bonds of comradeship among the members. I predict a most useful future for the Legion and the loyal support of all for the new Weekly."

The Legion's magazine will have an initial circulation of 100,000 copies. Reports from state branches indicate, however, that the organization of local Posts by national service men throughout the entire country is progressing so rapidly that half a million copies will be required within a few weeks. Charters issued to local Posts represent every state in the union.

The initial number of the Weekly will have thirty-two pages. It will contain a historical article describing the inception development, and organization of the Legion, its purposes and immediate program leading up to the National Convention in Minneapolis on November 10, 11, and 12; an article by Major Rupert Hughes, the novelist, on "Unfinished Business," to the effectt that peace does not terminate national service for the four million Americans who went to the War; an article by Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, on "Homes for Soldiers", and an article by Henry Woodhouse, Vice President of the Aerial League of America, on the recent trans-Atlantic flights.

Besides the message from General Pershing, Lord Northcliffe, former President William Howard Taft, and state governors have contributed articles endorsing the American Legion. The weekly also contains cartoons by Briggs and J. Norman Lynd; a sports review by Walter Camp; editorials, a page of humor, and reports from the State branches of the American Legion, showing the progress of organization of local Posts since the meetings of soldier, sailor and marine delegates in Paris and St. Louis.

The new publication was authorized by the St. Louis meeting which dedicated it to be "a national, non-partisan, non-section information service for the American people, a champion of Americanism—Americanism which means independence, security, health, education, more contentment and progress, for every patriot a stake in his own country; to be the torch, the beacon light thrown into our hands by the Americans who fell in battle, and help up as a unique and living monument to that other legion which did not come back."

The editorial staff is composed of former service men of newspaper and magazine experience. George Palmer Putnam of New York City is chairman of the committee in charge of the weekly. Among those associated with him are Robert C. Vance of New Britain, Connecticut; Charles D. Kelly of Detroit, Michigan; Donald McGregor of Washington, D. C.; James S. Juett of Wickliffe, Kentucky; John W. Young of Austin, Texas; and J. Leo Meehan of Salt Lake City, Utah.

In view of the recent admission of women to membership in the London County Council it is interesting to recall that not so very many years ago a fine of $800 was assessed against Miss Cobden for acting as a member of the same body, for which, "being a woman," she was disqualified.

Thousands In Attendance at Great World Sporting Event

H. C. HAMILTON

By H. C. HAMILTON

TOLEDO, OHIO, July 4—At 9 o'clock this morning the gates of the massive arena built at Bayview park here by Tex Rickard and Frank Flournoy swung open for bleacher patrons and the first move of the day for the twelve-round world's championship bout between Jess Willard, champion and Jack Dampsey, challenger, had been made.

A long line of patrons of the ten dollar section was waiting last night. Through the long hours they stuck, some sitting on boxes munching at sandwiches, others alternately standing or lying down.

Rickard hoped to have the cheaper seats filled within an hour after the gates were opened. Shortly thereafter the other gates were to open and what was expected to be the biggest crowd that ever saw a sporting event in the United States was to start through.

The arena built in octagonal shape, is equipped with many entrances each labeled for the section to which it leads. Holders of tickets were to be carefully separated and directed to their particular sections. To make sure that no confusion existed Rickard and Flournoy had engaged 500 soldiers, recently discharged from the service, to act as ushers and social policemen. These men, under the command of former lieutenants and captains, were sworn in as speceial deputies, with power to make arrests. They were armed. They were instructed that the aisles must be kept free. No standing patrons, according to announcement some time ago, were to be allowed.

The structure, it was expected by Jamese J. McLoughlin of San Francisco its designer would seat about 80,000 persons. If all seats are taken it will eclipse by about fifteen thousand the largest crowd ever at a sporting event in the United States. The greatest crowd, if memory is correct, attended the last football game between Yale and Harward universities in the Yale bowl at New Haven, Conn. Estimates then placed the number present at about 82,000, but these figures were cut down considerably by an official announcement, which placed the attendance at something more than 60,000.

The first bout of the day was to start at 10 a. m., according to Ae Thacher (correct) president of the Toledo Athletic club, under the auspices of which the bout was being staged. Something was to take place every minute of the time from then on. At 3 o'clock, the promoters planned to have the championship contenders step into the ring. By 3:30 at the latest, it was stated the bout would be on. Many things can happen, however, at such times, and many persons predicted it would be 4 or later before the principal gladiators of the afternoon would go into action.

The two heavyweights have been in training here for more than thirty days. The work has been hard and fast. Each was trained to the very best of condition. Dempsey suffered a bit of ill luck some weeks ago when an eyelet on a glove used by one of his sparring partners scraped his eyebrow and cut a deep gash. He refrained from boxing until it was healed.

The training period of each was in sharp contrest. Dempsey devoted a great deal of time to building his weight to a point where it would more nearly equal that of Willard for he needed weight to offset the great poundage of the champion. Willard, on the other hand, grieved in camp fat and slow and worked strenuously to take off weight. The process, therefore, was one of building toward each other. The difference in the weights was expected to be about fifty pounds, perhaps a little less.

Willard towers to a heigth of six feet six and a half inches. Dempsey is 6 feet one and a half inch. The difference is startling, but Dempsey's punching power was expected by his followers to offset any advantage superior size gave to the champion.

Betting favored the champion slightly before the battle. Odds of 3 to 1 on Willard were quoted freely about the city a week ago but this has receded. There is a great deal of Dempsey money. He has a host of supporters and they have been willing to risk their pocketbooks on their judgment. Therefore there has been little chance for Willard money to force the odds very high.

Ticket speculators were strongly in evidence with little effort to discourage them. The promoters realized some time ago that this sort of gentry would have to be dealt with, but there was no way in keeping a certain number of tickets out of their hands. With such an enormous number of the tickets on sale to any one who care to take them it was a certainty that some would fall into the hands of speculators.

Transportation facilities to the arena were taxed to their utmost from early hour. The double-tracked system for street cars was crowded with nearly all available rolling stock of the city lines. Huge interurban cars were pressed into service from outlying lines many of which center here. Automobiles passed in a constant stream. Hundreds made the trip afoot.

It was predicted last night that at least 40,000 persons would get into the arena. Twenty thousand persons were in line at the gates when the fringe

In the center of the ring, which sloped to a height of about [illegible] to a bowlshaped structure, was the ring—a twenty-foot square platform provide aditional space for newspaper men, of whom there were several hundred. Hundreds of telegraph instruments clicked under the edges of the ring and were scattered [illegible] in rows of massive press stands—probably the largest press stand ever built for any purpose. Usually a twenty-foot ring is used for championship bouts, but this is not the first time a smaller one has been used. Ad [illegible] and Battling Nelson used a ring [illegible] their fourteen rounds in Goldfield for the lightweight championship.

Promoters declared before the contest that rain would not stop the bout. The tickets have been sold and the checks have been issued. They believe, would pay [illegible] should rain start. Many [illegible] have come here for the holiday, staying only one day to spend [illegible] home, and would be unable to remain should there be a postponement.

The first bout of the day, scheduled for 10 a. m. was to be between Wm. English, Toledo and Whirlwind Wood, of the army. They are lightweights and were to go eight rounds.

Bantams were to provide the six-round [illegible] at 11 a. m. [illegible] Tommy O'Boyle of Cleveland [illegible] Abe Goldstein, of Indianapolis [illegible]

Johnny Lewis, Toledo [illegible] and Tommy Long, Detroit, [illegible] ed for ten rounds at noon.

Jock Malone, St. Paul and [illegible] ston, Joliet, Ill., welterweights, scheduled for ten rounds at [illegible] and the semiwindup was to be [illegible] Frankie Mason, Ft. Wayne, Ind. [illegible] tam and Carl Tremaine, of Toledo.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN FIRST REAL WORLD CHAMPION BOXER

There was no real world's champion in the heavyweight class until John L. Sullivan made his claim of the title after having defeated Jake Kilrain and Paddy Ryan. The title was recognized as vested in him at that time and has been handed down through a succession of pugilists.

Sullivan was the first heavyweight champion under Queensbury rules and engaged in the first heavyweight bout ever contested with gloves when he was defeated by James J. Corbett.

Since Sullivan's time only one champion has held the title who was not an American—Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitz really was an American in everything he did, but he was born in England, and came to this country from Australia. Several foreigners have attempted to wrest the title from holders in this country, but never has the effort been successful.

Sullivan lost his title to Corbett Sept. 7, 1892, at New Orleans.

Corbett was beaten in fourteen rounds at Carson City, Nev., by Bob Fitzsimmons, March 17, 1897.

Fitzsimmons was knocked out in eleven rounds at Coney Island, N. Y., June 9, 1899, by James J. Jeffries.

Jeffries defended his title successfully against several challengers, including Fitzsimmons, whom he knocked out in eight rounds on July 25, 1902, at San Francisco; Tom Sharkey, whom he outpointed in twenty-five rounds at Coney Island, and Jack Monroe, who lasted only two rounds at San Francisco, Aug. 26, 1904.

Jeffries retired in 1905, and after Marvin Hart had been knocked out by Stanley Ketchel in a bout refereed by Jeffries, the champion presented Hart with the title and belt. Jack O'Brien claimed the title, but was given no recognition. The public also disliked to accept Hart and after Tommy Burns had defeated him on Feb. 23, 1906 and was subsequently defeated in 1908 in Australia by Jack Johnson, claimor became so great that Jeffries was induced to enter the ring to save the title from passing into the hands of a negro.

Jeffries proved an easy mark for Johnson in their memorable meeting on July 4, 1910. The negro won in fifteen rounds.

After Johnson's ascension of the heavyweight throne, the class of big fighters declined steadily. Johnson met Jim Flynn, a good, small man, at Las Vegas, N. Mex., July 4, 1912, and practically knocked him out. Police stopped the unequal contest and the referee gave the decision to Johnson.

Johnson left the country in 1913, going to Europe, and a tournament was held in California for white heavyweights, which was won by Luther McCarty. He was recognized as the heavyweight champion of America.

On May 24, 1913, McCarty met Arthur Pelkey in Calgary, Canada, and was knocked out in the first round. He collapsed and died in the ring.

Pelkey was reluctantly accepted as the white heavyweight champion, but was knocked out in fifteen rounds on Jan. 1, 1914, by Gunboat Smith at San Francisco.

This ended the so-called effort to dig up a white heavyweight championship, for the quality of the boxers was so poor that the public refused to recognize such a title

In the meantime Johnson met and defeated Frank Moran, white heavyweigt of Pittsburg, in twenty rounds in Paris.

Jack Johnson agreed to meet Jess Willard on April 5, 1915, in Havana, Cuba, and was knocked out in twenty-six rounds.

Willard has defended his title just once, defeating Frank Moran in a tame ten-round bout in New York, March 25, 1916.

MORRISDALE ANSWERS BASEBALL CHALLENGE

Morrisdale, July 2nd.

James Nixon, Mgr.,
Philipsbur, Pa.

In answer to your challenge to the Morrisdale club in which you agreed to forfeit $50 if your club does not double scores in the contest, would say that we accept the challenge and condition with two exceptions:

1st—We cannot play you July 6th as we have a game for that date.

2nd—we will not play you in Philipsburg but will meet your club any night next week, but game must be played on Morrisdale grounds.

Now, Mr. Nixon, if you issued that challenge as a sportsman and you feel that your team is so much superior to the Morrisdale club I cannot see where you would object to playing the game on the Morrisdale ground. On the other hand, if the challenge was issued as an advertisement bluff why then you will have to hunt a team that will play on your own ground.

GILBERT HILL,
Manager Morrisdale Baseball Club.

FIREMEN GUARANTEE WORTHINESS OF THE CARNIVAL COMING HERE NEXT WEEK

Clearfield Fire Company No. 1 has arranged ot bring the Rubin & Cherry shows to Clearfield next week and this uptodate amusement enterprise will open at the Weaver lots, corner Third street and Leavy avenue Monday afternoon and continue every afternoon and evening during the entire week.

The people of Clearfield generally are entitled to some recreation and real enoyment at this time and the firemen believe they have a week of real pleasure in store for everybody. While the Rubin & Cherry shows are of the carnival brand, they are a real carnival, and so far superior to the aggregatipns, self-styled carnivals, afflicting this community or section this season that there can really be no comparison. The Rubin and Cherry shows are a real- incorporated amusement enterprise more in the nature of an uptodate circus with the real carnival spirit and attractions and all the generally present objectionable features eliminated.

The firemen stake their reputation on this show and guarantee to the people of Clearfield and community that not a single objectionable feature will be attempted or shown for one minute during the week. Every show and there will be sixteen in number, will be clean, moral and of genuine merit; no rough stuff or hoodlum boisterousness tolerated, and all may feel free to visit the carnival grounds and attractions at any time and be assured of the very best treatment together with a surfeit of real pleasure and enjoyment.

The proceeds from the week's entertainment will be utilized by the firemen in paying the balance due on their motor hose truck. The boys purchased this machine on their own hook and with their own money, because it was so badly needed and council could not see its way clear to purchase same in view of its already heavy expenditures in motorizing the department and buying hose and other equipment. No. 1's truck cost $1900, and of this sum $1200 was paid down out of the company treasury and fund collected for the purpose during the past three or four years. The balance of $700, with interest for one year is now due and it is hoped to realize this amount from their share of the carnival funds that this show is given. Nobody has been asked to or contributed toward this fund thus far and the fire laddies hope to be able to raise the money without personal solicitation and by this carnival means.

Again guaranteeing the cleanliness and worth of the Rubin & Cherry shows, the fireboys solicit your patronge next week. The shows jump here from Jamestown, N. Y., and on account of the long distance will not arrive in Clearfield before 11 o'clock Sunday night but will be in shape for business Monday afternoon.

The company comes here highly recommended by the press, public and pulpit as being the cleanest and most up-to-date line of shows on the road. There is not one immoral attraction with this company. The company carries no Oriental or 49 camp.

Among the attractions are Jack King's famous L. X. L. ranch, where you see those cowboys and girls riding wild and bucking horses.

The Hawaiian theatre. A company of genuine Hawaiians playing their native instruments and in their latest songs and dances.

The Old Plantation where you see and hear those southern darkies in the good old southern melodies as well as the latest song hits of the day.

The motordrome with its dare devil riders.

John Ruhl's flea circus. Trained live fleas doing almost imposible feats. Don't miss this attraction.

That strange girl.

The double baby.

A $30,000 merry-go-round; the handsomest on the road.

The Whip; be sure to crack it.

The big Eli Ferris Wheel.

These attractions and a number of others will be erected on the circus grounds and open for inspection on Monday night at 7.30

Prof. Mummelo's famous Italian concert band will give a concert in front of the Court House at 2:30 P. M. Monday. Come to town to hear it.

Little Mollie, the champion lady high diver of the world will dive from the top of a ladder 90 feet high into a tank of water four feet in depth every night.

EX-CHAMPION NOW A FULL FLEDGED AGRICULTURIST

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 4. (United Press)—J. J. Jeffries at Burbank reports some nice records being made on two cows but owing to not having any sugar beets to feed, Mr. Jeffries says that these cows are not doing their best."

That's what a western farm journal recently said. It refers to Jim Jeffries, once heavyweight champion of the world.

Jeff has been transferred, at least in part, from the sport to the farm page. He lives out at Burbank, some fifteen miles from Los Angeles, where he gets money and amusement from his big ranch. Jeff is a full-fledged farmer, the farm having been practically his only business interest since local option closed his big cafe here.

Cows, pigs and alfalfa are his specialties.

Early morning sees Jeff trudging out to the fields. A recent telephone call at 8 a. m. brought the answer that "Mr. Jeffries went down to the lower field an hour ago to fix a tractor and he won't be back until noon." He works regular farm-hand hours.

But, although Jeff has transferred his affections from the prize ring to the farm, he still is a familiar figure when there is something doing in the world of sports. He is an ardent baseball fan and it is not unusual to see Jeff and Fran Chance occupying adjoining seats at the ball park in the afternoon and in the evening sitting together at the four round boxing show.

Jeffries paid a visit to Willard's training camp just before the big fellow left for Toledo to finish preparations for his bout with Dempsey. Willard looked good to Jeffries, but Big Jim refused to do more than intimate that he thinks Willard is a winner.

Scrub women in the employ of the State of Massachusetts will hereafter receive a wage of 40 cents an hour under the terms of a measure recently passed by the legislature.

NOT HIS JOB

"I'm not supposed to do that" said he,
"That's not my job and it's not ma care,
So I'll pass it by and leave it there."
And the boss who gave him his weekly pay
Lost more than his wages on him that day.

"I'm not supposed to do that," he said;
"That duty belongs to Jim or Fred"
So a little task that was in his way
That he could have handled without delay,
Was left unfinished; the way was paved
For a heavy loss he could have saved.

And time went on and he kept his place,
And he never altered his easy pace,
And folks remarked on how well he knew
The line of the tasks he was hired to do;
For never once was he known to turn
His hand to things not of his concern.

And there in his foolish rut he stayed,
And for all he did he was fairly paid;
But he never was worth a dollar more
Than he got for his toil when the week was o'er,
For he knew too well when his work was thru,
And he'd done all he was hired to do.

If you want to grow in this world, young man,
You must do every day all the work you can;
And it must be done, take care of it,
If you find a task, though it's not your bit,
And you'll never conquer or rise if you
Do only the things you're supposed to do.

WILLARD AND DEMPSEY ON THE SCALES—Left: Jess Willard proving that he weighs 248 pounds. Right: Jack Dempsey found wanting! The scales show the challenger weighs but 178 pounds but Jack is holding it back with his hand. Real weight said to be 201. (C) Underwood & Underwood.

NEW ELECTION PRECINCT IN JORDAN

Judge Bell made an order July 1st dividing Jordan township into two election precincts. The new district will be known as McCartney Precinct, the boundaries of which are as follows:

Beginning at a point, where Knox, Bigler and Jordan townships join; thence in a northwesterly direction along the Knox and Jordan township line to and along the line of the E. A. Irwin estate to the northwest corner of the same; thence in a southwesterly direction along the line of said estate lands and along line of J. A. McNeel to the Lamborn place and the southwest corner thereof; thence in a southeasterly direction along the Lamborn place to the south east corner thereof; thence in an easterly direction along Thomas Rea estate to upper Lamborn place; thence in an east-southeast direction along the upper Lamborn place and land of Henry Dotts to the Jordan and Beccaria township line; thence along same in a northeasterly direction to and along the Bigler and Jordan township line to the corner of Knox township and place of beginning.

Elections will be held in the McCartney school house and the following election officers will conduct the coming primary election:

JONES—WOMER

The Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of the first and prettiest wedding of the season when at three o'clock sharp on Sunday afternoon, June 29th, Rev. John Adams united in marriage Miss Eva A. daughter of Mr and Mrs. L. B. Jones and Walter E. Womer of Munson, Pa.

After the ceremony a reception and luncheon was given at the home of the bride's parents on the Terrace. The house was profusely decorated in the color scheme of pink and white.

The brides gifts were many and beautiful, including a set of Haviland china, cut glass, linen, silver, crystal and money.

The bride is one of Galeton's most popular girls and well known in church and musical circles. The bridegroom is at present employed in the engineering office of the Buffalo & Susquehanna R. R.

After a short honeymoon in New York state they will make their home with the bride's parents until their apartments at 14 East Main street are ready for them.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr and Mrs. George Womer of Munson, Pa., pa

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs L. S. Whitaker and several friends motored to Clarion, Pa., last Sunday and on the return trip had the misfortune to skid on a sharp turn in the road just before entering Brookville and as the result, the car turned over, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Whitaker is suffering from a broken wrist and several bruises but the other members of the party escaped with a shaking up.

C. H. S. class 1916 held a very enjoyable reunion and banquet at the Park Hotel last evening, which was followed by dance in the Moose Hall. Music by Graff Brothers Orchestra of Punxsutawney.

Three-fourths of the population of Curwensville helped swell the crowd at Clearfield and the remaining fourth spent the day at the Pee-Wee's Nest.

Mrs. Atlee Norris of Bloomington who has been ill for several weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Norris of Pike township, was taken to her home on Wednesday.

Miss Lorna Newcomer spent the Fourth with friends at Bellefonte.

Mrs. Wm. Hipps of Filbert street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edith Kephart of Johnstown, Pa.

Mrs. Richard Hanscome and little daughter of Falls Creek are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gates, of Filbert street.

About twenty-five friends of Mr. Emery Daub gave that young man one of the biggest surprises of his life when they gathered at his home Thursday evening, July 3rd, to help him celebrate his birthday and incidentally to usher in the "Grand and Glorious Fourth". The evening was spent in dancing and various games. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woodside and little son and daughter, who motored to Mt. Holly, N. J., a couple weeks ago, arrived home last evening having spent a few days in Chester county on the return trip.

Mrs. H. P. Kirk and little sons Henry and Richard, returned last evening from a two weeks visit with friends and relatives at Philipsburg.

Miss Dorothy Cox of Clearfield attended the party given for Emery Daub Thusday evening.

Mr and Mrs. C. S. Russell and Mr. William Russell motored to Philipsburg yesterday.

Every man, woman and child who had means of locomotion—other than that which they were born with, packed a basket yesterday and betook themselves to some place or other where they could at least put off a pack of fire crackers without getting "in Dutch" with the powers that be.

Messrs. Alex Irvin, Jno. P. Irvin, Thad. Cassidy and Jno. A. Dale will have that part of Susquehanna avenue which their residences front, covered with a heavy coating of some tar preparation to allay the dust which, on account of the continuous travel over this section, is a constant annoyance.

On Monday afternoon the Kings Daughters and the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will give a lawn party on the church lawn.

In the evening there will be a lecture on missionary topics by Mrs. Allie K. Winters, of China, in the church.

GRAMPIAN

Grampian wants to see more airplanes. We can hear them often but they fly so high we can not see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wrigglesworth of Hollidaysburg are spending the Fourth at the Wrigglesworth home at Hepburnia.

Mrs. John McDevitt is spending a few days at Altoona.

H. B. Clary and family of Harrisburg are visiting relatives and friends here this week.

COURT NOTES

Suit has been entered in the Clearfield county courts by Attorneys James A. Gleason of Dubois and A. M. Liveright of Clearfield, on behalf of Mrs. Anna Polchonki, of DuBois, in which damages to the amount of $20,000 are asked from the Pennsylvania Railroad company for the death of the woman's husband, who was killed at a dangerous grade crossing in DuBois, something more than one year ago.

Polchonki was leading his cow to pasture when struck by a train and ground to pieces. Besides the widow five minor children are interested in the suit.

Taylor & Co., Philadelphia stock brokers, through their attorneys Miller & Hartswick, entered suit in the Prothonotary's office this morning against S. Blaine Stine, of Osceola, in which they seek to recover $4211.25 alleged to be due them on oil stock transactions carried on by the brokers for Mr. Stine.

MURRAY REUNION

The river country was not without its pleasant gatherings yesterday and one of the most delightful reunions ever held was at the home of Kyler Murray at Lecontes Mills. The Murray family of eleven children are getting pretty well scattered over the face of Uncle Sam's territory and this reunion served to bring many of them together with the old folks or the young old folks as the case really is. Mrs. Woodring of Nebraska (Mada) and Boyd, of Portage, were unable to be present.

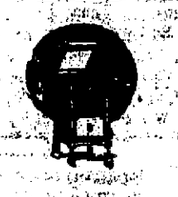
Why It's a Mistake to Delay Your purchase of a NEW EDISON



Most everything you buy wears out, eventually. An automobile, for example—or a suit of clothes. So the longer you delay its purchase the longer you'll have it to enjoy.

Not so with a New Edison. It will outlive you anyway. Every month you delay is just one more month gone from your life—another month in which you might have had your life enriched by music—but didn't.

Under our new plan by which payment can be made so much a month there's no reason why you shouldn't be enjoying your New Edison right now.

The New Edison cost $3,000,000 to perfect. It is the only instrument which successfully meets the test of direct comparison with the living artist's voice or instrument. It will bring into your home the world's best music, sung or played by the world's great artists.

Call tomorrow for a demonstration. "Send it out to the house" will be your verdict.

FIRESTONE records show that mileage adjustments were so few and trouble came so seldom that a new basis of adjustments was arranged:

Fabric Tires, 6000 Miles
Cord Tires, 8000 Miles

Your dealer knows that the Firestone Gray Sidewall Tires have delivered such mileage as to make this new standard adjustment more conservative than the old standard was for ordinary tires.

ANTLERED HERD GATHERING AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 5.—Purple and white bunting envelops this famous resort and Elks heads and clocks with their hands pointing to the mystic hour of eleven are in almost every available niche in honor of visiting members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, who have been coming into town by the hundreds today from every section of the country.

Elkdom's part in the world war will be the keynote of the peace and victory convention of the Grand Lodge, which will get under way Monday for a week's session. Governor Lowden of Illinois has accepted an invitation to deliver the peace oration before the convention.

Among the delegates already arrived there is considerable campaigning going on preliminary to the election of new Grand Lodge officers. Most interest centers in the contest for the office of Grand Exalted Ruler, to succeed Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis. The candidates whose names are most frequently heard among the delegates are Frank L. Rain of Fairbury, Neb., and Albert T. Brophy of Brooklyn.
